

The Penn State Action Club

Interactive Seminars in Motor Control and Coordination

Starting Time Fridays, 3.30 p.m.

Meeting Place 276 Rec Hall: Conference Room

Organized by: Dagmar Sternad and Mark Latash

List of Speakers in Spring 2001:

January 18 Natalya Dounskaia (Arizona State)

February 1 Claudia Carello (University of Connecticut)

February 15 Andy Ruina (Cornell University)

March 2 Sandro Mussa Ivaldi (Northwestern University)

March 16 Slobodan Jaric (Sweden)

March 30 Amir Handzel (University of Maryland)

April 13 Sheng Li (Penn State)

April 27 Dagmar Sternad (Penn State)

The seminar will provide a forum for indepth discussions of issues on motor control and coordination. It is interdisciplinary in nature, perspectives ranging from biomechanics, neurophysiology, psychology to philosophy. The sessions are aimed to be informal and highly interactive with no preset time limits. Speakers will have 10 minutes of uninterrupted presenting time. Thereafter, they may and should be interrupted whenever questions arise.

After the meeting there will be a gathering in honor of the speaker where food and drink is provided. Graduate students are encouraged to attend and to participate.