* The speakers marked with a star will also give a talk in the Department's Colloquium at 4 pm on the day before.

The seminar will provide a forum for indepth discussions of issues on motor control and coordination. It is interdisciplinary in nature, perspectives ranging from biomechanics, neurophysiology, psychology to philosophy. The sessions are aimed to be informal and highly interactive with no preset time limits. Speakers will have 10 minutes of uninterrupted presenting time. Thereafter, they may and should be interrupted whenever questions arise.

After the meeting there will be a gathering in honor of the speaker where food and drink is provided. Graduate students are encouraged to attend and to participate.
