

The Penn State Action Club

Interactive Seminars in Motor Control and Coordination

Starting Time: Fridays, 3.30 - 5.00 p.m.

Meeting Place: 276 Rec Hall: Conference Room

Organized by: Dagmar Sternad and Mark Latash

List of Speakers in Spring 2003:

January 24 Kasutoshi Kudo (University of Tokio)

February 7 Vladimir Zatsiorky (Penn State)

February 21 Aymar de Ruyg (Penn State)

March 7 Ruud Meulenbroek (Univ of Nijmegen)

March 21 Marco Santello (Arizona State Univ)*

April 4 Zong-Ming Li (Univ of Pittsburgh)

April 18 Vijaya Krishnamoorthy (Penn State)

The seminar will provide a forum for indepth discussions of issues on motor control and coordination. It is interdisciplinary in nature, perspectives ranging from biomechanics, neurophysiology, psychology to philosophy. The sessions are aimed to be informal and highly interactive with no preset time limits. Speakers will have 10 minutes of uninterrupted presenting time. Thereafter, they may and should be interrupted whenever questions arise.

After the meeting there will be a gathering in honor of the speaker where food and drink is provided. Graduate students are encouraged to attend and to participate.

* This speaker will also give a talk at the departmental colloquium