

The Penn State Action Club

Interactive Seminars in Motor Control and Coordination

Starting Time: Fridays, 3.45 - 5.15 pm

Meeting Place: 127 Noll Conference Room

List of Speakers in Fall 2006

- | | |
|----------------------------|---|
| September 15 | Pietro Mazzoni (Columbia University) |
| October 6 | Ryan Clement (Penn State) |
| October 20 | Jason Friedman (Weizman Institute) |
| October 27* | David Lin (Washington State University) |
| November 10 | Slobodan Jaric (University of Delaware) |
| December 1 | Larry Snyder (Washington University) |
| December 8 | Toby Mordkoff (Penn State) |

The seminar will provide a forum for indepth discussions of issues on motor control and coordination. It is interdisciplinary in nature, perspectives ranging from biomechanics, neurophysiology, psychology to philosophy. The sessions are aimed to be informal and highly interactive with no preset time limits. Speakers will have 10 minutes of uninterrupted presenting time. Thereafter, they may and should be interrupted whenever questions arise.

After the meeting there will be a gathering in honor of the speaker where food and drink is provided. Graduate students are encouraged to attend and to participate.

* This speaker will also give a talk at the departmental colloquium on the Thursday before Action Club.