Chair's Corner

February is National African

American History Month. While we may not all specifically teach about race issues in America, issues of race in higher education are important for us all to recognize. This interactive map - which showcases recent Census Bureau Data about degrees, gender and race - serves to remind us to reflect upon the past as we work to ensure an equitable future.

Chair of Chemistry and Chemical Biology, ADVANCE co-PI

Tenure and Promotion: Personal Reflections

Are you thinking ahead for tenure or promotion reviews? The model dossier located at the Provost's Office website is an essential document. You might also want to hear personal reflections from others who have recently gone through the process for tenure and/or promotion. Join us as we host

Associate Professor Rebecca Rosengaus (Biology) and Professor Mark Williams (Physics) as they discuss their recent experiences and the choices they made leading up to the tenure and promotion process. Come to hear tips on how they were able to navigate this process and learn from their experiences. To RSVP for this discussion and luncheon please click here.

Lunchtime Networking Hour

When: February 24, 2010
Where: Churchill Hall Cafeteria
Time: 12:00 - 1:00 PM

We invite all faculty to join us in the faculty room of the Churchill Cafeteria for our monthly informal luncheon. Bring your lunch and meet colleagues from across the university!
