Chair's Corner

This month I invite you to think about tenure and promotion.

Recently, Ohio State University began to question the path to full professor - could there be more than one? Currently we are expected to be good at teaching, service AND research. However, in reality research is most important - which is not the way that scholarly balance for tenure was intended. This article in Tomorrow's Professor looks at what's been discussed and I challenge you to come up with your own opinions on the subject.

Working with the Media and Public Relations

Would you like to know how to better represent yourself and the university when dealing with the press? On June 16, 2010 Northeastern's Director of Public Relations, Renata Nyul, will host a workshop on how to work with the media. This is an opportunity to learn more about the art of public relations while networking with colleagues! Lunch will be served. Please RSVP here.

Suggestions for Future Event Topics?

The 2009 - 2010 academic year was a busy one! The ADVANCE office planned and hosted over 20 meetings, talks and events this year for the Northeastern faculty and more than 80 new faculty and guests have shown up to our events! From the tenure and promotion discussion panels to the funding opportunities presentations, questions were answered and introductions were made with faculty colleagues in other departments.

We are currently planning for next year's events and we very much want to incorporate your opinions. Do you have an idea for an event you really want us to host? We want to know!

To voice your opinions and ideas simply click on this link. Or you can email us at: nuadvance@neu.edu. We are looking forward to hearing from you on how we can mold our program to better serve this university.
