Chair's Corner

To enable our undergrads to adapt to the changing economy, we educate them in a variety of subject areas. As academicians we should ask ourselves: why aren't we doing the same for our graduate students? Utilizing a traditional model, we train our students to take our place even though there are more PhD's enrolled than ever and tenure positions are disappearing. This article talks about how a knowledge-based economy needs PhD-trained workers in all sectors and recommends alternative ways that graduate students can use their training to adapt and excel in today's society.

Hitting the Ground Running

On September 15, 2010 we invite new and experienced faculty alike to network and discuss "Hitting the Ground Running" - what would you do if you could do it all over again. The discussion will be led by Rebecca Carrier of Chemical Engineering, Carol Paronis of Behavioral Pharmacology and Penny Beuning of Chemical Biology. To attend this event, please RSVP here.

Lunchtime Networking Hour

When: September 30, 2010

Where: Churchill Hall Cafeteria

Time: 12:00 - 1:00 PM

By popular request, ADVANCE will be organizing informal networking luncheons once a month. All faculty are invited to join us in the faculty room of the Churchill Cafeteria. Bring your lunch and let's discuss what everyone is up to!
