Interdisciplinary Networking Workshop

From October 26-28, ADVANCE will hold its second Interdisciplinary Networking Workshop in partnership with CenSSIS and ALERT for young researchers interested in learning about what it takes to land the ideal faculty position. The selection process for participants was highly competitive, with some of the best senior graduate students and postdocs from around the country vying for the all-expenses-paid workshop. Participants were hand selected by department chairs in Mathematics, Physics, Electrical Engineering, Computer Science, and Bouve.

While at Northeastern, these highly qualified future-educators will participate in the day long ADVANCE workshop, learning how to acquire and transition to a faculty position. They will also attend the two day Research and Industrial Collaboration Conference. We invite the Northeastern community to come meet these scholars and learn about their exciting research at the poster presentation, on October 27, 2009 at the McLeod Suites in the Curry Student Center from 12:30 - 3:00pm.

We are also currently planning for future Interdisciplinary Networking Workshops. If your department or center is interested in learning more about participating in the next workshop, email: NUadvance@neu.edu.
