Northeastern ADVANCE seeks to achieve institutional transformation through promoting the advancement of women faculty in the physical sciences, engineering, and social science fields. Our current programs include monthly faculty networking meetings and STRIDE, which serves as a resource to faculty search committees. We invite you to learn more about us at our Open House on September 24, from 3:00 to 5:00 pm in the ADVANCE offices in 411 Richards.

Introducing STRIDE

STRIDE stands for Strategies and Tactics for Recruiting to Improve Diversity and Excellence. Northeastern University will be utilizing an adaptation of the University of Michigan developed STRIDE Recruitment Committee to support search committees in the hiring process. The STRIDE Committee will hold workshops this Fall for department chairs and recruitment committee members to discuss innovative strategies for recruitment and evaluation. The STRIDE Committee aims to increase the diversity in applicant pools by reducing bias in hiring and evaluation procedures.
