

NATIONAL FELLOWSHIPS AND SCHOLARSHIPS

Carnegie Endowment Junior Fellows Program Washington, DC

Deadline: January 15 (or the Friday before if the 15th falls on a weekend or holiday).

Each year the Endowment offers 8-10 one-year fellowships to uniquely qualified graduating seniors and individuals who have graduated during the past academic year. They are selected from a pool of nominees from close to 300 colleges. Carnegie Junior Fellows work as research assistants to the Endowment's senior associates.

For more information: <http://www.carnegieendowment.org/about/index.cfm?fa=jrFellows>

Fulbright Program

Various Locations (of your choice/interest)

Deadline: Mid-October

You could be one of more than 1,500 students who receive a Fulbright grant each year to go overseas. The U.S. Student Fulbright Program operates in more than 140 countries worldwide; grants are available in all fields of study.

For more information: <http://us.fulbrightonline.org/home.html>

Barry M. Goldwater Scholarship Program

Deadline: February

The purpose of the Foundation is to provide a continuing source of highly qualified scientists, mathematicians, and engineers by awarding scholarships to college students who intend to pursue careers in these fields.

For more information: <http://www.act.org/goldwater/>

Marshall Scholarships

United Kingdom

Deadline: Early October

Marshall Scholarships finance young Americans of high ability to study for a degree in the United Kingdom. Up to forty Scholars are selected each year to study at graduate level at an UK institution in any field of study. Each scholarship is held for two years. As future leaders, with a lasting understanding of British society, Marshall Scholars strengthen the enduring relationship between the British and American peoples, their governments and their institutions. Marshall Scholars are talented, independent and wide-ranging, and their time as Scholars enhances their intellectual and personal growth. Their direct engagement with Britain through its best academic programs contributes to their ultimate personal success.

For more information: <http://www.marshallscholarship.org/>

George J. Mitchell Scholarship

Ireland

Deadline: Early October

A national competitive scholarship designed to introduce and connect generations of future American leaders to the island of Ireland, while recognizing and fostering intellectual achievement, leadership, and a commitment to public service and community. Twelve Mitchell Scholars between the ages of 18 and 30 are chosen annually for one year of postgraduate study in any discipline offered by institutions of higher learning in Ireland and Northern Ireland.

For more information: <http://www.us-irelandalliance.org/wmspage.cfm?parm1=34>

Rhodes

Oxford

Deadline: Early October

Applications are sought from talented students without restriction as to their field of academic specialization or career plans although the proposed course of study must be available at Oxford, and the applicant's undergraduate program must provide a sufficient basis for further study in the proposed field. Through the years, Rhodes Scholars have pursued studies in all of the varied fields available at the University of Oxford. Rhodes Scholars are elected for two years of study at the University of Oxford, with the possibility of renewal for a third year.

For more information: <http://www.rhodesscholar.org/>

St. Andrews Scholarship

Scotland

Deadline: March

In recognition of the benefits of higher education, the Society provides significant funding for two Scottish graduate students to study in the United States and two Scottish-American students to study in Scotland. Initiated by the Society at its 200th anniversary, in the past fifty years the program has consistently attracted the top students from the most competitive institutions of learning.

For more information: <http://www.st-andrews.ac.uk/admissions/ug/Financialinformation/Scholarships/USACanadianAwards/>

Truman Scholarship Program

Deadline: Early February

The Truman Scholarship provides up to $30,000 in funding to students pursuing graduate degrees in public service fields. Students must be college juniors at the time of selection. The Foundation also provides assistance with career counseling, internship placement, graduate school admissions, and professional development.

For more information: <http://truman.gov/for-candidates/For-Candidates>

ARTS/ENTERTAINMENT

Red Sox Fellowship

Boston, MA

Deadline: Mid-January

The focus of the Fellowship Program is to provide an immersion into the day-to-day operations of a sports franchise and gain insight into the world of sports. The program provides a new portal into Fenway Park, creates a new method to increase diversity in professional sports, and helps attract talented college graduates into the industry. Each Fellow will be assigned to a broad area within the organization: Business Affairs, Public Affairs or Baseball Operations. While the Fellows will have numerous responsibilities in their particular area, they will also be assigned an intensive, six-month working project that will be the primary focus of the experience. The program will also focus on each Fellow's professional development. The Fellowship class will have weekly meetings with senior level executives within the Red Sox organization. Each Fellow will also have an organizational mentor that will assist in the Fellow's transition into the Club while serving as a resource. Additionally, the Fellows will be exposed to programs and resources to build skills and further their understanding of the organization.

For more information: http://boston.redsox.mlb.com/bos/community/fellowship_application.jsp

The Metropolitan Museum of Art, Internship in Educational Media

NY, NY

Deadline: Mid-January

Graduating college seniors, recent graduates, or graduate students in art history or related fields are eligible for this six-month internship. Interns are placed in one of the Museum's departments, where they help with projects that match their academic background, professional skills, and career goals. Interns participate in the two-week Summer Internship Program orientation.

For more information: http://www.metmuseum.org/education/er_internship.asp

The Metropolitan Museum of Art, Lifchez/Stronach Curatorial Internship
NY, NY

Deadline: January

This internship is awarded to a student who has recently graduated from college or is enrolled in an art history M.A. program and would use the internship to continue in a career in art history. Applicants should come from a background of financial need or other disadvantage that might jeopardize pursuit of such a career. The intern is assigned to a curatorial department to work on projects appropriate to his or her academic background, professional skills, and career goals. The intern participates in the two-week Summer Internship Program orientation.

For more information: http://www.metmuseum.org/education/er_internship.asp

The New York Assistant Director Training Program
NY, NY

Deadline: January

The New York Assistant Director Training Program is designed to provide opportunities for a limited number of individuals to become Assistant Directors of Motion Pictures. This is a two year program consisting of up to 350 days of on-the-job training combined with seminars and special assignments. A rotation system places Trainees on the sets of various features, television series and commercials shooting primarily in the New York City vicinity. There they work under the supervision of DGA members - Second Assistant Directors, First Assistant Directors and Unit Production Managers until graduation. Upon completion of the program, graduates are qualified to join the DGA (Directors Guild of America) as Second Assistant Directors.

For more information: <http://www.dgatrainingprogram.org/index.php?mnu=1>.

Orchestra Management Fellowship Program
NY, NY

Deadline: February

The League's Orchestra Management Fellowship Program is amongst the League's most durable and successful initiatives. This prestigious year-long leadership training program is designed to launch executive careers in orchestra management. Each year five Fellows undertake a series of residencies with orchestras of various sizes across the United States. During the year the Fellows receive invaluable work experience, an intense course of study and the support and nurturing of program and host orchestra staff, in particular that of the orchestra executive director. Fellows also participate in Leadership seminars and receive a comprehensive overview of the concert music industry. The Fellows begin their year-long immersion in orchestral life with a week of seminars and discussions at the League's annual Conference. Then, as a rapidly bonding group, they go to Aspen, Colorado for a dynamic and intensive summer managing the orchestras of the Aspen Music Festival and School.

For more information: http://www.americanorchestras.org/learning_and_leadership/omfp.html

Abigail Adams Museum Summer Fellowship
NY, NY

Deadline: March

Eight Weeks - $2,500. Graduate and undergraduate students conducting an independent research project at the Abigail Adams Smith Museum in NYC on a topic relating to the museum's history, its collection, or the history of New York City.

For more information write to:

Hearst Fellowship Program
Abigail Adams Smith Museum
421 East 61st Street
New York, NY 10021
Tel: (212)838-6878
Fax: (212) 838-7390

BUSINESS

Acumen Fund Fellows Program

New York City then Kenya, Tanzania, South Africa, India or Pakistan

Deadline: Early November

A 12-month fellowship for individuals with the dedication of serving the poor in the developing world and the business skills to effect change. Fellows will be responsible for overseeing and managing a variety of investments currently in the Acumen Fund portfolio and will provide leadership on projects for organizations that offer goods and services to impoverished populations. At the same time, fellows will play an instrumental role in scoping and developing new investments.

For more information: <http://www.acumenfund.org/get-involved/fellows-program.html>

United States Golf Association Fellowship

Colorado Springs, CO

Deadline: January

The fellowship is a hands-on working experience, and also a starting point in acquiring managerial skills. Fellows work revolves around their regional grants, including assessing applications and budgets prior to Grants Committee Meetings, making great evaluation calls, writing press releases and working with grantees on check presentations. Fellows also manage national, local and office projects and have the opportunity to travel. This is a two year program.

For more information: http://www.usga.org/about_usga/philanthropy/fellowship/Fellowship/

Mountbatten Programme

London, UK

Deadlines: For Spring Programs: October, For Fall Programs: March

The Mountbatten Programme offers young Americans with a Bachelor's degree the opportunity to pursue a 12-month internship in the business environment of a London based organization. The internship year offers practical experience through participation and training in business, while also developing international and cross-cultural awareness through residence in Britain.

For more information: http://www.mountbatten.org/mipweb.nsf/pages/ld_a_year_in_london

Simon & Schuster Associates Program

New York, NY

Recent grads can obtain hands-on experience in several areas of publishing with the yearlong Associates Program that offers competitive salary with benefits. You may have the opportunity to rotate through various departments throughout the year to help you broaden your knowledge of publishing and put your career on a "fast track".

For more information: <http://simonandschuster.biz/careers/associates-program>

Infosys' Technologies Ltd. Global Internship Program

Worldwide

Deadline: Varies

Infosys' IT consulting and software solutions address the mission-critical needs of Fortune 500 corporations as well as emerging corporate leaders. Located across the globe, Infosys handles a variety of exciting multi-million dollar projects for clients. Internships can last up to 24 weeks.

For more information: <http://www.infosys.com/instepweb/>

Fairmount Fellows Program

Philadelphia, PA

Deadline: Rolling

The Fairmount Fellows Program is a full-time, two-year work experience for individuals who are motivated to help meet the needs of the nonprofit sector by working in a dynamic, client-driven consulting environment. Fellows work closely with Fairmount's experienced professionals and learn the basics of how nonprofit organizations work, foundation and government fundraising, program design, strategic planning, housing development, individual giving, and more.

For more information: http://www.fairmountinc.com/e_fellows.html

AICPA John L. Carey Scholarships

Various Locations

Deadline: April

Awarded to a graduate of a liberal arts college who intends to pursue graduate accounting studies. Scholarships are given based on academic achievement, leadership and future career interests and are contingent upon acceptance in a graduate accounting program. Awards are $5,000 and scholars are eligible for renewal.

For more information:

<http://ceae.aicpa.org/Resources/Scholarships+and+Awards/John+L.+Carey+Scholarship+Program.htm>

Consortium for Graduate Study in Management Fellowships for Talented Minorities (CGSM)

Various Locations in the US

Deadline: November and January

The Consortium for Graduate Study in Management is an alliance of graduate schools of business committed to creating career opportunities for African Americans, Hispanic Americans, and Native Americans. Once admitted to a Consortium school an applicant is eligible to win a fellowship which covers full tuition and fees over two years of full-time Master's Degree at that university. Applicants must be a U.S. citizen; African American, Hispanic, or Native American. Applicants are eligible to apply for the fellowship after being admitted to one of the schools in the Consortium.

For more information: <http://cgsm.org/>

COMMUNICATIONS

Pulliam Journalism Fellowship

Phoenix, AZ or Indianapolis, IN

Deadline: November

The Indianapolis Star and The Arizona Republic, Gannett Co. newspapers, are seeking college students and new graduates with a talent for reporting, news design and graphics, or photojournalism for an exciting and demanding fellowship program.

For more information:

<http://www.indystar.com/apps/pbcs.dll/article?AID=/99999999/HELP03/80129025>

Inter American Press Association Scholarships

Latin America, the Caribbean, Canada

Deadline: December

U.S. and Canadian scholars spend an academic year studying and reporting in Latin America and the Caribbean, and Latin American and Caribbean scholars spend an academic year studying at a recognized U.S. or Canadian journalism school.

For more information: <http://sipiapa.com/otheractivities/scholarships.cfm>

The Israel Project Media Fellowship

Jerusalem, Israel or Washington, DC

Deadline: Varies

Throughout the summer, fellows meet with top-level journalists, Middle East analysts and strategic communications professionals. They also put their knowledge to use in writing assignments, many of which are published during the fellowship; staff and plan TIP press conferences and briefings; and undertake in-depth research projects. Fellows also become skilled at building relationships with journalists, providing them key information and researching complex topics.

For more information: <http://www.theisraelproject.org/site/c.hsJPK0PIJpH/b.1189643/>

American Prospect Writing Fellowship

Washington, DC

Deadline: May

The American Prospect Writing Fellowships support writers under 30 who show the potential to thrive as critical journalists and public intellectuals. Fellows will participate in seminars with leading journalists and work closely with American Prospect editors and contributors in developing their own work.

For more information: http://www.prospect.org/cs/about_tap/fellowships

Templeton-Cambridge Journalism Fellowships in Science and Religion

Cambridge, UK and various locations

Deadline: October

The program relies on two distinct methods of study. Seminars at the University of Cambridge employ an innovative interdisciplinary approach to give fellows an overview of key issues in the field. Fellows also pursue a course of independent, private research into a specific area of interest within the larger topic. Potential areas of study include comparison of the methods of science and religion, origins of life, cosmology, genetic engineering, astrobiology, and spirituality and health. The program is for persons with at least 3 years of professional experience and priority is given to mid-level to senior journalists. Fellows will be paid a $15,000 stipend in addition to a book allowance and travel expenses.

For more information: <http://www.templeton-cambridge.org/eligibility/>

NBC News Associate Program

New York, NY

Deadline: March

News Associates gain real-world experience honing research skills, developing news stories working in a news bureau, participating in field and studio show production, on the nightly news, a morning news program, or on a "magazine" program. Each News Associate is assigned a mentor who is an experienced staff member. News Associates undergo an intense week long orientation filled with workshops, lunches with guest speakers and training. Over 75 percent of the News Associates who've completed the program have gone on to various producing positions with NBC News. Some are currently with "Dateline," "NBC Nightly News", "Today" or with MSNBC, CNBC, or our Burbank bureau. This is a one year staff position. The program runs twelve months and consists of several long-term assignments on a news program and/or a news bureau. The program is based in the New York metropolitan area. Relocation expenses are not covered.

For more information:

<http://www.nbcunicareers.com/earlycareerprograms/newsassociateprogram.shtml>

The New Republic Yearlong Internship Program

Washington, DC

Deadline: Rolling

The New Republic offers various literary and journalism internships. Internships are unpaid but offer substantial experience in the production and marketing of a daily online publication.

For more information: <http://www.tnr.com/jobs-and-internships>

EDUCATION

Math for America

NYC, San Diego or Los Angeles

MfA Fellows are mathematically sophisticated recent college graduates and mid-career professionals who are interested in using their talents to make a difference in the lives of young people by teaching secondary school mathematics in Berkeley, Boston, Los Angeles, New York

City, San Diego and Washington, DC public schools. Fellows commit to a five-year program that includes one year of full-time graduate study and four years of teaching mathematics.
For more information: <http://www.mathforamerica.org/home>

The Knowles Science Teaching Foundation (KSTF) Fellowship
Various locations covering 25 states in the US

Deadline: January

KSTF Teaching Fellows are young men and women who have received a bachelor's or advanced degree in science, engineering or mathematics and are committed to teaching high school science and/or mathematics in U.S. schools. The fellowship supports them professionally and financially for up to five years through a teacher preparation program to eligibility for tenure.
For more information: <http://ksf.org/fellowships/teaching.html>

Global Scholar Fellow
Baltimore, MD

Deadline: January

Global Scholar is a two-week summer seminar that offers rising high school juniors and seniors the chance to immerse themselves in college-level coursework on world affairs. The seminar normally takes place each July, at Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Virginia. Global Scholar is a fee-based initiative to bring rising high school juniors and seniors into the dialogue about our inter-connected world before entering college.
For more information: www.globalscholar.org.

Phillips Academy Andover Teaching Fellow
Andover, MA

Deadline: January

Phillips Academy Andover is an independent, coeducational boarding and day school with approximately 1,800 students. Teaching fellows are recent graduates interested in the field of teaching, with no earlier preparation. Fellows teach two class sections, live in dormitories to support students and coach two terms of interscholastic or intramural sports. Attention is also given to each fellow's professional development.
For more information:

<http://www.andover.edu/about/careersatandover/pages/teachingadministrativefacultypositions.aspx>

The Villers Fellowship for Health Care Justice
Washington, DC

Deadline: January

The Villers Fellowship for Health Care Justice was created in 2005 by Philippe Villers, Founder and President of Families USA. Villers Fellows work in our health policy department and assist our organization's efforts to improve access to health coverage for all Americans, especially for low-income and other vulnerable communities. Specifically, Villers Fellows will conduct research on a range of health care policy issues, and write and contribute to publications that are relevant to current health policy debates. In creating the fellowship, Mr. Villers aspired to develop a network of young leaders who share a passion for health care justice.

Find more information: <http://www.familiesusa.org/about/the-villers-fellowship.html>

The Taft School Teaching Fellow
Watertown, CT

Deadline: February

The Taft School is a coeducational boarding school with about 600 students. Teaching Fellows teach two or three classes with the guidance of a faculty mentor as well as become involved in other parts of student life.

For more information: <http://www.taftschooll.org/academics/teachingfellows.aspx>

The Greenlining Institute- Academy Fellowship

Berkeley, CA

Deadline: February

The Fellowship program is a year-long training program for young leaders that have completed, at minimum, their undergraduate degrees by the start of the program. Fellows are assigned to specific program areas and develop expertise with the direction of a Program Manager and the Academy Director. Although the curriculum is similar to that of the Associates program, Fellows are given more responsibility and independence to implement projects and programs. For their work Fellows receive: $33,800 per year and Health Benefits are included.

For more information: <http://greenlining.org/sections/view/fellowship>

Public Allies Fellowship Program at Eagle Rock and Professional Development Center

Estes Park, CO

Deadline: February

The Public Allies Fellowship Program at Eagle Rock School and Professional Development Center provides twelve individuals with an advanced yearlong service and leadership development program focused on education and youth development at the nationally recognized Eagle Rock School and Professional Development Center located in Estes Park, Colorado. Founded in 1993, Eagle Rock is a tuition-free residential high school that serves diverse young people (ages 15-21) from across the country who have not succeeded in conventional schools. Eagle Rock School emphasizes active learning, community service, environmentalism, outdoor education, and traditional academic subjects. Through this unique service and training opportunity, Public Allies Eagle Rock Fellows will gain skills that will make them effective teachers, leadership trainers, and youth workers. Fellows will work and live together in community with eleven other Public Allies Fellowship Program participants, students and staff at the school's state of the art facilities in the Rocky Mountains northwest of Denver.

For more information:

http://www.publicallies.org/site/c.liKUL3PNLvF/b.3158771/k.1644/Eagle_Rock.htm#how_to_apply

Philadelphia Teaching Fellows

Philadelphia, PA

Deadline: Winter Program- July (priority), August (early), September (final). Summer Program- November (priority), January (early), March (final).

As a Fellow, you will be trained at an intensive Training Institute where you will become part of a powerful support network of diverse, but like-minded, individuals working to ensure student achievement in our classrooms. Upon successful completion of the Training Institute, Fellows will assume full-time teaching responsibilities in School District of Philadelphia classrooms. Fellows will also pursue Pennsylvania Certification concurrently through a local college or university. The Philadelphia Teaching Fellows operates on two admission cycles during the year. The Winter Program starts in February, and the Summer Program starts in September.

For more information: <http://www.philadelphiateachingfellows.org/>

Oakham Science Graduate Fellowship

East Midlands, England

Deadline: Flexible

The Science Fellowship program at Oakham School aims to recruit an enthusiastic graduate from one of the sciences to join Oakham School as a teacher, tutor, and resident member of staff. Oakham School is a major Independent School in the East Midlands of England, with excellent facilities (notably in the sciences) and a progressive, international outlook – we deliver the I.B. Diploma in addition to the UK exam courses. The precise program would be negotiated between the school's Senior Scientist and the graduate, to achieve a match between their own interests and the needs of the school. The graduate would not be expected to take sole charge of a class unless by mutual agreement and with full support.

For more information:

http://www.oakham.rutland.sch.uk/Academic/Departments/Chemistry/Science_Fellow

The Learning Project Elementary School Internship Program

Boston, MA

Deadline: Rolling

The Internship Program at the Learning Project Elementary School provides six beginning teachers with a yearlong supervised opportunity to develop teaching skills, knowledge about young children and curriculum, an understanding of the dynamics of a school, and a familiarity with the teaching profession. Interns work closely as team members with their Supervising Classroom Teachers and are given significant independent opportunities to learn how to teach lessons and manage a classroom. The interns meet as a group weekly in seminar with the Coordinator of Interns, and regularly with other members of the faculty. Interns receive a medical benefit (90%) plus a $19,000 yearly stipend paid monthly.

For more information: <http://www.learningproject.org/internship.html>

AMC Fellows Program

Ft. Belvoir, VA

Deadline: Rolling

AMC is the Army's premier provider of acquisition support, materiel readiness technology, logistics projection materiel development, and sustainment of the total force to ensure dominant land force capability for Soldiers. In short, if a Soldier shoots it, drives it, flies it, wears it, or eats it, then AMC provides it. To support this effort, the AMC Fellows Program was established in 2001 to create a multi-functional, mobile cadre of future civilian leaders. The program is a five-year, fast-track Executive Management Training Program with a structured approach to developing Army and AMC civilian leaders of the 21st century. The program includes: Immediate immersion in graduate degree studies resulting in a Master's of Business or Engineering Degree for the first 13 months of the program; The remaining 47 months of the program consist of rotational on-the-job training assignments in various organizations and locations throughout the U.S. and overseas. The AMC Fellows Program is actively recruiting graduates with preferred majors in Accounting, Biology, Business Administration, Chemistry, Computer Science, Economics, Engineering, Finance, Logistics, Information Technology, Physics, Marketing, Materials Management, Mathematics, Political Science, Psychology, or Statistics.

For more information: <http://www.amccareers.com/>

The Learning Project Elementary School Internship Program

Boston, MA

Deadline: Rolling

The Internship Program at the Learning Project Elementary School provides six beginning teachers with a yearlong supervised opportunity to develop teaching skills, knowledge about young children and curriculum, an understanding of the dynamics of a school, and a familiarity with the teaching profession. Interns work closely as team members with their Supervising Classroom Teachers and are given significant independent opportunities to learn how to teach lessons and manage a classroom. The interns meet as a group weekly in seminar with the Coordinator of Interns, and regularly with other members of the faculty.

For more information: www.learningproject.org/internship.html

WorldTeach Volunteer Teacher Program

Various countries

Deadline: Varies WorldTeach has 14 year-long programs, 2 semester-long programs, and 7 summer programs. All of the WorldTeach programs vary largely depending on the region of the world and the length of the program. The year-long programs generally last for about 11-12 months, semester-long programs generally last for 6 months, and the summer programs last for about 8 weeks. For more information: www.worldteach.org

Americorps

Various Locations

Deadline: Varies

Americorps offers 10-12 month programs serving nonprofits, public agencies, and faith-based and community organizations. AmeriCorps is a network of local, state, and national service programs that connects more than 70,000 Americans each year in intensive service to meet our country's critical needs in education, public safety, health, and the environment.

For more information: <http://www.americorps.gov/>

The Stanwich School Intern Program

Greenwich, CT

Deadline: Check with program

The Stanwich School Intern Program is designed for liberal arts graduates who would like to enter the field of education. This two-year program involves full-time classroom teaching alongside highly qualified mentor teachers, with placements in a different grade level each year. By attending classes after school hours and during the summer, interns earn a Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) at nearby Manhattanville College with the opportunity to acquire New York and/or Connecticut certification.

For more information: http://www.stanwichschool.org/about/intern_program.asp

Chicago Botanic Garden

Chicago, IL

Deadline: Varies

Various internships offered. The Chicago Botanic Garden's conservation and land management mentoring program is a five- to ten-month paid internship that assists professional staff at Bureau of Land Management (BLM) state and field offices or national parks (NPS). Each internship requires a unique set of skills in at least one of the following areas: Geographical Information Systems (GIS), wetland ecology, forestry, archeology, recreation, botany, wildlife, range management, conservation, technical writing, ornithology, policy, and entomology. Each intern will receive training on the Endangered Species Act and related conservation issues at a one-week course.

For more information: <http://www.chicagobotanic.org/internship/index.php>

Student Conservation Internships

Various Locations

Deadline: Rolling

SCA internships last from three to twelve months in over 50 disciplines. Interns have the opportunity to work directly with various park or agency professionals on conservation issues. Internship locations range from Alaska to the Everglades to Washington, D.C.

For more information: <http://www.thesca.org/internships/>

Yale University Graduate Fellowships for Minority Americans

New Haven, CT

Yale University offers two fellowships intended primarily for American Indians, Black Americans, Mexican Americans, and Puerto Ricans, although members of other minority groups may apply. Dorothy Danforth Compton Fellowships provide an annual stipend of $8,000 plus tuition and fees for up to five years of graduate study leading to a Ph.D. in any field, but with preference given to the humanities and natural sciences. Applicants should be planning a career in college teaching. Patricia Roberts Harris Fellowships provide an annual stipend of $10,000 plus tuition and fees for up to five years of graduate study leading to Ph.D. in Afro-American Studies, American Studies, Anthropology, Economics, History, Political Science, and Sociology. Applicants should be planning a career in teaching and/or research. Students should indicate their interest in either or both of these awards when applying for admission to Yale Graduate School.

Further information can be obtained from:

Dean Deborah G. Thomas

Yale University, Graduate School
Box 1504A, Yale Station
New Haven, CT, 06520

GENERAL

International Fellows Program

Africa

Deadline: February

A public-private sector initiative created in 1987 to provide recent college graduates and graduate students an opportunity to work overseas for nine months as International Fellows. Fellows are assigned to various development organizations such as Africare, CARE, Save the Children, TechnoServe, Opportunities Industrialization Centers International, Counterpart International, and UNICEF to work on various types of community-based development activities. These include providing technical assistance and training to community-based grassroots projects in various areas such as education, public health, HIV/AIDS, English as a Second Language (ESL), agricultural development, proposal development, managerial training, feasibility studies, and small business enterprise development.

For more information: <http://www.ifesh.org/what-we-do/international-educators-for-africa-program/international-fellows-program/>

EI Pomar Fellowship

Various regions in Colorado

Deadline: January

The EI Pomar Fellowship is a highly competitive, two-year post-undergraduate leadership training program that develops today's young professionals into tomorrow's leaders. It is designed to bring together highly qualified individuals with diverse backgrounds and interests, and develop them into effective leaders for the public, private and nonprofit sectors. The Fellowship seeks to develop professional skills and educate Fellows in the role of philanthropy in the nonprofit sector, while offering direct management experience.

For more information: http://www.elpomar.org/page.asp?pageid=0|6|30&id=0|el_pomar_fellowship

Hearst Minority Fellowship

Indianapolis, Indiana

Deadline: Varies

The Hearst Minority Fellowship is designed to engage more minorities in the study of philanthropy through one of the graduate degrees offered by the Center on Philanthropy at Indiana University. A fully funded ten-month fellowship sponsored by the Hearst Foundation intended to promote the inclusion of under-represented groups in organized philanthropy. Participants matriculate at Indiana University to receive a Master's degree. Applicants must be a member of an under-represented group, have a B.A., and be accepted into the M.A. or MPA program.

For more information: <http://www.philanthropy.iupui.edu/Education/hearst.aspx>

Samuel Huntington Public Service Award

Anywhere in the world

Deadline: January

This provides a $10,000 stipend for a graduating college senior to pursue one year of public service anywhere in the world. Applicants may use the money for an individual project or for one that involves an educational, community, or religious organization. Awards are granted on the basis of the candidate's academic record, the quality of the proposal, and related personal achievements.

For more information: http://www.nationalgridus.com/commitment/d4-1_award.asp

The Wellstone Fellowship for Social Justice
Washington, DC

Deadline: February 5

This fellowship is designed to increase the number of low-income, black/African American, Latino, Asian and Pacific Islander, and Native American Indian social justice leaders. Candidates must demonstrate an interest in health care policy as a tool for reducing racial and ethnic health disparities. Applicants should also demonstrate a commitment to social justice advocacy following their year of hands-on experience as a fellow. The Fellowship will last one year, from August to July and Fellows will receive a salary of $38,000 and health care benefits. One Wellstone Fellow is selected each year. For more information see

<http://www.familiesusa.org/Wellstone>

The Mariam K. Chamberlain Fellow
Washington, DC

Deadline: March

The Mariam K. Chamberlain Fellow works as a general research assistant on a variety of research projects and reports. Research tasks may include reviewing literature; collecting, checking and analyzing data; gathering information; and preparing reports and report graphics. Attending relevant Congressional briefings, policy seminars and meetings is also an integral part of the fellowship program.

For more information: <http://www.iwpr.org/About/employment.htm#fellowship>

University of Southern California Graduate School Fellowship Opportunities

Deadline: February

The Graduate School of the University of Southern California offers several fellowships to students pursuing advanced degrees. Some are targeted to specific ethnic groups or specific disciplines.

For more information: <http://www.usc.edu/schools/college/admission/scholarships.html>

Combined Jewish Philanthropies and Scholarship Fund

MA

Deadline: April

Awards from $1,000 - $6,000. Individuals are considered on the basis of economic need and are expected to have exhausted all other available resources. Undergrad and grad students are eligible to apply, though undergrads are given preference. Students must live in the Greater Boston CJP service area. Awards are non-sectarian and students in any major are encouraged to apply.

For more information: <http://www.cjp.org/page.aspx?id=173537>

LANGUAGES/CULTURAL

Blakemore Freeman Fellowships

Various Abroad

Deadline: December 30

Since 1990, the Foundation has awarded over $11.2 million in language grants. Blakemore Freeman Fellowships fund a year of advanced study of an Asian language in Asia for American citizens and permanent residents of the United States who have a college degree and who plan to use an Asian language in their careers.

For more information: <http://www.blakemorefoundation.org/>

The Dorot Fellowship

Israel

Deadline: Rolling

Designed to assemble and empower a network of young Jewish lay leaders to enliven the American Jewish landscape. Twelve Dorot Fellows are chosen each year to live in Israel, where they sharpen the characteristics and skills, acquire the experience, and broaden the networks required for Jewish leadership in the 21st Century. This encompasses both individual and communal learning experiences. Each Fellow devises a Personal Learning Program, comprised of formal and experiential Jewish learning, and of various volunteer activities. In addition, Dorot Fellows and Staff exist in a Collaborative Community in which all members take responsibility for developing and executing a communal learning agenda throughout the year.

For more information: <http://www.dorot.org/dfi>

Hillel's Schusterman International Center Fellowship
Washington, DC

Hillel offers seven one-year fellowships for outstanding recent college graduates. Fellows gain an opportunity to affect many aspects of Jewish campus life while receiving an in-depth professional experience. The salary for the Hillel Schusterman International Center Fellowship is $28,000. Hillel also offers a generous benefits package that includes health and dental insurance and fifteen days each of vacation and sick leave.

For more information: http://www.hillel.org/careers/jobs/fellowships_hq/default

Indicorps

India

Deadline: October

Indicorps offers one and two-year competitive public service fellowships for people of Indian origin who want to understand India and challenge themselves to make a difference. Indicorps offers fellowships in India that are designed as one-of-a-kind transformational experiences, emphasizing both public service and personal growth. While providing resources to help fellows succeed projects, the program provides an environment for fellows to learn about themselves.

For more information: <http://www.indicorps.org/>

American Jewish World Service (AJWS) Fellowship

India and Central America Locations

Deadline: January AJWS World Partners Fellowship is awarded to Jewish recent college graduates and young professionals who wish to volunteer at an NGO, live independently in a developing country and participate in a peer-learning community. Fellows learn about human rights in an international context, explore the Jewish values that motivate their work and gain skills to prepare their entrance into careers dedicated to social justice.

For more information:

http://www.ajws.org/what_we_do/service_and_travel_opportunities/world_partners_fellowship/

Monbukagakusho Scholarships

Japan

Deadline: Varies

Each year, the Monbukagakusho (Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science, and Technology, Government of Japan) offers scholarships to foreign students for (1) research study, (2) professional training, (3) teacher training, (4) Japanese studies and (5) Undergraduate Student Scholarships. The Consulate in Boston provides application opportunities to American citizens living in New England. Applications are available from:

The Japanese Consulate in Boston Tel: (617) 973-9772 <http://www.boston.us.emb-japan.go.jp/>

LAW/PUBLIC AFFAIRS

William Jefferson Clinton Fellowship India

Deadline: February

The William Jefferson Clinton Fellowship program enables exchange of technical skills and intellectual resources aiming at building the capacity of under-resourced Indian NGOs, while developing American leaders with a deep understanding of, and continued commitment to, India.

Since 2001, nearly 265 fellows have been placed with 115 organizations across India. The selection of fellows is based on an assessment of their stated desire to acquire and share skills, a commitment to working in India in under-resourced settings, an understanding of development issues, the adaptability and willingness to learn, flexibility to adapt to a new personal and work environment, relevant skills set for the specific NGO needs, and creativity. A rigorous selection process is undertaken in India and the US which includes personal and telephonic interviews post a reading and assessment of applications. This is followed by a skill matching process to ensure that the NGOs and Fellows derive the maximum value from this 10 months immersion in a project. For more information: <http://www.aifoundation.org/programs/signature/fellowship.htm>

The New Israel Fund/SHATIL Social Justice Fellowships

Israel

Deadline: February

The New Israel Fund/SHATIL Social Justice Fellowships are ten-month stipend fellowships at organizations working to advance social justice and democracy in Israel. Each fellowship is designed to enable a talented and committed Jewish professional or recent graduate to spend a year contributing to social justice while experiencing Israel first-hand.

For more information: <http://www.nif.org/get-involved/fellowships/social-justice-fellowships/>

Youth Service Opportunities Project Fellows Program (YSOP)

Various Locations

Deadline: June 15

YSOP engages young people in direct service, while encouraging their development as the future leaders of nonprofit organizations. The program is a year-long fellowship for recent graduates. YSOP Fellows are involved with every aspect of the organization; they lead high school and college students in our Workcamps, identify and schedule service placements at service agencies, and encourage reflection on the volunteer experience. YSOP Fellows help organize and prepare for all aspects of the programs, including contacting guest speakers, reviewing program evaluations, and training Workcamp staff.

For more information: <http://www.ysop.org/ysopfellows.htm>

African Women Public Service Fellowship

In an African Country and in NYC

Deadline: January

Wagner announces a call for applications for the African Women Public Service Fellowship, a fellowship program made possible by a donation from the Oprah Winfrey Foundation, which expands the opportunity for African women to prepare for public service in their home countries. As fellows at NYU Wagner, African women study in one of two graduate programs: the two-year Master of Public Administration or the one-year Master of Science in Management of International Public Service Organizations. The awards for either program will support tuition, housing, travel to and from the United States and a small stipend to cover books and miscellaneous expenses. Applicants commit to return to their respective home countries at the conclusion of the program with the goal of assuming a leadership position on the continent where they can meaningfully contribute to the challenges currently confronting Africa.

For more information: <http://wagner.nyu.edu/international/awpsf.php>

Capital Fellows Program (4 different fellowships)

California

Deadline: February

This program is run by the Center for California Studies. Fellows work for 11 months, receive health benefits and a monthly stipend of $1,972, and are considered employees of CSUS. They work as full-time members of a legislative, executive, or judicial branch office, and are typically given assignments with a significant amount of responsibility and challenges. Fellows also enroll as graduate students at CSUS and receive 12 graduate credits from the CSUS Government Department or Public Policy and Administration Program. These programs are nationally recognized and are an outstanding opportunity to engage in public service and prepare for future careers, while actively contributing to the development and implementation of public policy in California.

For more information: http://www.csus.edu/calst/Programs/about_programs.html

Congressional Hispanic Caucus Institute (CHCI) Public Policy Fellowship

Washington, DC

Deadline: March

Every year, the nine-month Fellowship Program (late August to late May) offers up to 20 talented Latinos from across the country the opportunity to gain hands-on experience at the national level in the public policy area of their choice including international affairs, economic development, and educational and housing policies.

For more information: <http://www.chci.org/fellowships/>

Bill Emerson National Fellows Program

All over the US then Washington, DC

Deadline: January

Each year 20 participants are selected for this twelve-month program. Fellows are placed for six months with urban and rural community-based organizations all over the country involved in fighting hunger at the local level. They then move to Washington, DC to complete the year with six months of work at national organizations involved in the anti-hunger and poverty movement. This unique program develops effective leaders with a deep understanding of hunger and poverty at both the local and national level that enables them to find innovative solutions and create the political will to end hunger.

For more information: <http://www.hungercenter.org/national/national.htm>

Mickey Leland International Hunger Fellowship

Africa, Asia and Latin American/Caribbean regions

Deadline: January

This is a unique leadership development opportunity for experienced, motivated individuals seeking to make a difference in the struggle to eliminate hunger and poverty worldwide. This two-year program begins with a one-year field placement in countries throughout Asia, Africa, and Latin America. Fellows are assigned to national and international non-governmental organizations, private sector entities, and bi-lateral and multi-lateral organizations. Fellows spend their second year in a policy environment, usually at the headquarters of the organizations where they served during their field placements. Field and policy assignments, closely coordinated, are designed to be complementary.

For more information: <http://www.hungercenter.org/international/international.htm>

The Echoing Green Fellowship

Deadline: December

Each year, Echoing Green awards 20 two-year fellowships to entrepreneurs creating new social change organizations. Fellows receive up to $90,000 in seed funding and technical support to turn their innovative ideas into sustainable organizations.

For more information: <http://www.echoinggreen.org/fellowship>

Green Corps

Deadline: Varies

The one-year Green Corps program intersperses intensive classroom instruction with multiple campaign efforts. Trainees gain hands-on experience running field campaigns to win environmental protections and public health initiatives. Throughout the year, each trainee receives specific individualized feedback on all aspects of his or her work, as well as local mentorship from environmental organizers throughout the nation. At the end of the training, the Green Corps program facilitates trainees' placement in permanent positions with leading environmental and social change groups.

For more information: <http://www.greencorps.org/>

Coro Fellowship Program in Public Affairs
Los Angeles, New York, Pittsburgh, San Francisco and St. Louis
Deadline: January

The Fellows Program in Public Affairs is a nine-month, full-time, post-graduate experiential leadership training program which introduces diverse, intelligent and driven individuals to all aspects of the public affairs arena. Field assignments, site visits, interviews and special individual and group projects prepare Coro Fellows to translate their ideals into action for improving their own communities.

For more information: <http://www.coro.org/site/c.geJNlUOzErH/b.2086429/>

The Executive Fellowship Program
CA

Deadline: January

The Executive Fellowship Program is sponsored by the California State University, Sacramento's Center for California Studies and the Office of the Governor to provide an experiential learning opportunity in California state government. Fellows work full-time in high levels of the Executive branch and meet weekly for graduate seminars. This program uniquely integrates work experiences with academic and professional development.

For more information: <http://www.csus.edu/calst/executive/index.html>

The Judicial Administration Fellowship Program
CA

Deadline: February

The Judicial Administration Fellowship Program is open to all people with a college degree, including recent graduates and mid-career applicants. It is expected that applicants will demonstrate an interest in the judicial system and issues concerning the administration of justice in California courts. Ten fellows are accepted into the 11-month program which begins in September. The fellowship program is both academic and professional. Upon acceptance into the program, fellows will be enrolled as graduate students in Public Administration at Sacramento State, and attend regularly scheduled academic seminars. Fellows serve as full time professional staff in judicial branch offices.

For more information: <http://www.csus.edu/calst/judicial/index.html>

Jesse M. Unruh Assembly Fellowship Program
CA

Deadline: February The California State Assembly Fellowship Program is one of the nation's oldest and most prestigious legislative fellowship programs. In 1987, the program was renamed the Jesse Marvin Unruh Assembly Fellowship Program to honor California's former Assembly Speaker and State Treasurer. This unique program provides an opportunity for individuals of all ages, ethnic backgrounds and experiences to directly participate in the legislative process. Each year, 18 individuals are selected to participate in the program. The 11-month fellowship provides an introduction to public policy formation and adoption in the California Legislature through full-time work as a professional legislative staff member.

For more information: <http://www.csus.edu/calst/assembly/index.html>

American Institute for Economic Research Summer Fellowship Program
Great Barrington, MA
Deadline: April

The Institute awards a dozen or more Summer Fellowships each year to students who will be entering a doctoral program in economics or affiliated programs (e.g., law and economics, economic history, etc.). We also consider applications from those students enrolled in such programs for no more than two years. The program is not designed for students wishing to pursue graduate work in a business school program (e.g. MBA). Students choose between two four-week sessions. Summer Fellows participate in intensive seminars in the Methodology of Economics, Monetary Economics, Business-Cycle analysis and forecasting, property rights, and other topics.

For more information: www.aier.org/education

Institute for International Public Policy

Various

Deadline: February

The IIPP Fellowship Program provides students from underrepresented minority groups with intentionally-designed education and training experiences critical to entry and advancement in international affairs careers. IIPP is a comprehensive program of summer policy institutes, study abroad, intensive language training, internships, graduate study and student services, including mentoring and career development. Additionally, the program provides students with the education and training needed to enter successfully, advance within, and lead international affairs careers.

For more information: www.uncfsp.org/IIPP

Harry A. Blackmun Scholarship

Deadline: June

Seniors or graduates planning to pursue the degree of Juris Doctor are eligible, with preference given to qualified candidates with ties to the state of Minnesota. Scholarship is based on academic achievement, financial need, and potential for making a contribution to society and the legal profession.

Further info:

Harry A. Blackmun Scholarship Foundation, Inc.
118 West Mulberry St.
Baltimore, MD 20201-3600

American Bar Foundation Fellowships

Chicago, IL

Deadline: December

The ABF sponsors a program of summer research fellowships to interest minority undergraduate students in pursuing graduate study in the social sciences. The summer program is designed to introduce students to the rewards and demands of a research-oriented career in the field of law and social science. Eligible are American citizens and lawful permanent residents including, but not limited to, persons who are African American, Mexican, Native American, or Puerto Rican. Applications will be considered only from sophomores and juniors, that is, students who have completed at least the sophomore year and who have not received a bachelor's degree by the time the fellowship begins.

For more information:

<http://www.americanbarfoundation.org/research/Fellowshipopportunities.html>

SCIENCE

National Institutes of Health

Deadline: Rolling

The National Institutes of Health offers a number of scholarships and awards programs for those interested in the biomedical sciences.

For more information: <http://www.training.nih.gov/student/index.asp>

Fusion Energy Sciences Fellowship Program

Various US locations

Deadline: January 31

Offers the opportunity to engage in the study and research of fusion energy sciences and technology, while fostering practical work experiences at recognized research facilities. Provides incentive and support to students as they continue their education in graduate school and prepare for careers in fusion energy.

For more information: <http://see.ornl.gov/ProgramDescription.aspx?Program=10124>

American Geological Institute
AGI Geoscience & Public Policy Internships
Deadline: March, April and October

AGI's Government Affairs Program offers summer and semester internship opportunities for geoscience students (undergraduates and Masters students) with an interest in public policy and in how Washington impacts the geoscience community. Interns gain a first-hand understanding of the legislative process and the operation of executive branch agencies. They also hone writing, research, and web publishing skills. For more information:

<http://www.agiweb.org/gap/interns/index.html> or call 703-379-2480.

American Meteorological Society Undergraduate Scholarships
Deadline: Early Spring

Available to students pursuing a degree in the atmospheric or related oceanic or hydrologic sciences. Applicants must be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident with GPA of at least 3.0.

For more information: <http://www.ametsoc.org/amsstudentinfo/scholfeldocs/index.html>

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Devereux Foundation Traineeship
Deadline: February 1

The full-time, 12-month Professional Psychology Traineeship is an experiential learning program for recent college graduates who are considering graduate study in psychology or a related behavioral healthcare field. The program provides a supervised learning experience combining didactic and hands-on training. In keeping with the scientist practitioner model of professional psychology, the program emphasizes training in both applied psychological research and clinical services. A major goal of the program is to expose trainees to the variety of roles and functions of practicing professional psychologists and thereby enable them to consolidate and refine their career goals before making an informed decision to enter professional psychology as a career.

For more information: <http://ppt.devereuxictr.org/>

Samuel Huntington Public Service Award
Deadline: January

The Samuel Huntington Public Service Award provides an annual stipend of $10,000 for a graduating senior to pursue public service anywhere in the world. Students are encouraged to shape their own proposals for public service in this country or abroad. The activity can be undertaken by the student alone or working through established charitable, religious, educational, governmental, or other public service organizations. All seniors who will not enroll in a graduate program immediately are eligible.

For more information: http://www.nationalgridus.com/commitment/d4-1_award.asp

Foundation for Sustainable Development

Deadline: August 1 for Fall programs and March 1 for Summer programs. Students are encouraged to apply early as early applications are given priority.

The Foundation for Sustainable Development offers internships of varying lengths in international development. The focus may be environment, youth, education, community development, human rights, health and microfinance. Current programs take place in Argentina, Bolivia, India, Kenya, Nicaragua, and Uganda. Interns pay fees, pay for room and board, in-country transportation, and other costs.

For more information: <http://www.fsdinternational.org/>

Beinecke Memorial Scholarships
Deadline: February

This scholarship provides a total of $34,000: $4000 upon completion of the bachelor's degree and $15,000 per year for two years of graduate study at any domestic or international university, college, or professional school. Juniors who are U.S. citizens and possess superior intellectual ability and personal promise are encouraged to apply. Applicants must have demonstrated financial need to be eligible. Preference is given to students for whom the awarding of the scholarship would significantly enhance the likelihood of attending graduate school. Student planning to attend graduate schools in the arts, humanities, and/or behavioral or social sciences are given priority. Students in the social sciences who plan to pursue study in neuroscience are not eligible. A GPA of 3.50 or above is typical.

For more information: <http://www.beineckescholarship.org/>

References and other Websites to find more Fellowship listings and information:

http://www.idealists.org/en/career/fellowship.html (information on public interest fellowships)	http://www.nsf.gov/funding/pgm_summ.jsp?pims_id=6201 (National Science Foundation fellowship)
http://www.science.gov/internships/undergrad.html (Internship and fellowship opportunities in science)	http://www.journalismjobs.com/fellowship_listings.cfm (journalism fellowships)
http://career.berkeley.edu/Infolab/Fellow.stm (general information on fellowships)	http://www.gradschool.cornell.edu/?p=132 (searchable fellowship database)
http://www.hertzfoundation.org/dx/Fellowships/ (information on Hertz Foundation fellowships)	http://gervaseprograms.georgetown.edu/fellowships/fellowships/40426.html (list of various fellowships)