Northeastern University strongly urges Congress to come to an agreement to extend the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program and maintain protections for DREAMers.

There are dozens of DREAMers in the Northeastern community. They are students and alumni. They are, above all else, important members of the Northeastern family. Their perspectives and their experiences make us better. That is why we remain committed to supporting them and strongly urge the federal government to take action now.

Here at Northeastern, we have a proud tradition of engagement with the world. We understand the importance of being a diverse, inclusive, and truly global community. Moments like this only reinforce our commitment to these core values.
