Mari Gallagher is President of Mari Gallagher Research & Consulting Group (www.marigallagher.com) and the National Center for Public Research (www.NCforPR.org) in Chicago. Mari authored Examining the Impact of Food Deserts on Public Health in Chicago (2006), a breakthrough study that nationally popularized the term “Food Desert” and encouraged Congressman Bobby Rush to enter “Food Desert” language into the Farm Bill. She will give an informal talk entitled Fast, Cheap, and Easy is Not a Porn Film, It’s the New American Diet!, focused on food desert and planning issues.

Mari will also be giving a presentation at Northeastern University from 12-1:30pm on April 12:
Raytheon Amphitheater, 120 Forsyth St., Boston
