Beyond 2015:
Due Diligence Framework
to End Violence against Women

Thursday, 13 March 2014, 1.00 pm – 3.00 pm
German House, 871, 1st Avenue, NYC (opposite the UN)

with distinguished guests at the Launch of the Due Diligence Framework Report

Charlotte Bunch, Advisor, Due Diligence Project, Founding Director and Senior Scholar at the Centre for Women’s Global Leadership, Rutgers University, NJ

Frances Raday, Vice Chairperson, UN Working Group on Discrimination against Women in Law and in Practice;

Azza Soliman, Co-founder, Center for Egyptian Women’s Legal Assistance (CEWLA), Cairo

Rea Chiongson, Gender and Justice Advisor, World Bank, D.C.

Violence against women remains a persistent challenge to achieving full empowerment of women (MDG3). Beyond target setting, the Due Diligence Framework offers a tool for translating existing norms and standards on ending VAW into measurable, comparable and implementable components.

All are welcome! Malaysian refreshments will be served
