Introduction

The Graduating Senior Employment survey is designed to obtain information from graduating seniors regarding their post-graduation plans. Graduating full-time undergraduate students are asked various questions related to employment and graduate school. Currently in its tenth year, this survey provides insight regarding the initial plans of recent graduates. Trend data from the survey is useful in examining patterns of employment and graduate school plans of new graduates.

This survey, as in previous years, used paper questionnaires that were completed at the time of commencement ticket pickup. Of approximately 2,300 full-time graduating seniors, 1,736 completed the survey yielding an estimated response rate of 76%. This rate is more comparable to the 74% and 49% response rates for the Classes of 2004 and 2005, respectively and more than double the 36% for the Class of 2006 when the survey was conducted exclusively through an on-line instrument via the MYNEU web portal. This year, initially the survey was also placed on the portal. However, when there were indications that the response rate was going to be so low that the results would not be useable, a decision was made to switch back to paper questionnaires. The increased response rate can be attributed to the mode of data collection and the conscientious efforts of the student workers who staffed the survey table and personally handed out the questionnaires to graduating seniors.

Summary of Findings

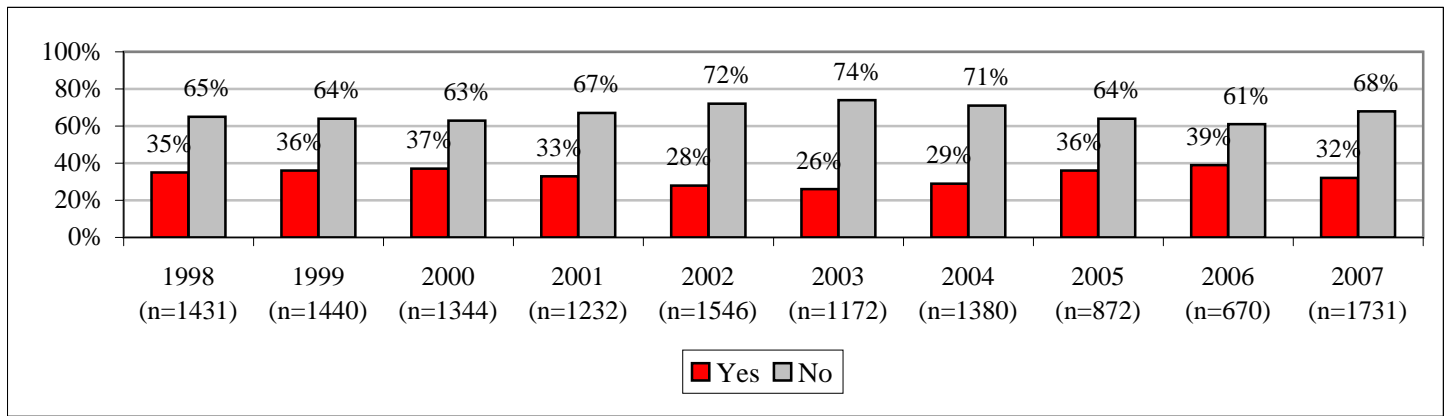

- Thirty-two percent (32%) of graduates report having secured full-time employment at or before graduation. This figure represents a decrease from last year's data (39%).

NOTE: Caution should be exercised when using the data from 2006 for comparison purposes since it was obtained using a different methodology that yielded a much lower response rate than all previous studies.

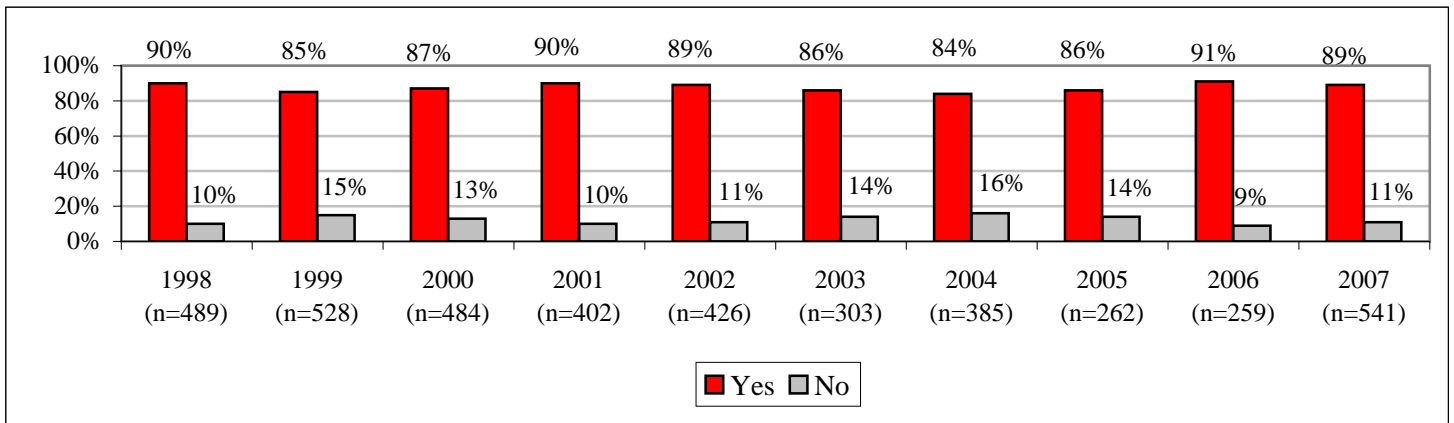

- Compared to last year, slightly fewer students who have secured full-time employment indicate that this job is related to their field of study (89% vs. 91%).
- Fifty-five percent (55%) of all students who participated in Co-op and have secured a full-time job indicate that this job is with a former Co-op employer. This percent is the highest of the previous five years measured.
- The mean starting salary for those 2007 graduates employed full-time is $52,008 and the median is $51,000. The mean represents a 4.8% increase over starting salaries obtained by the Class of 2006.
- Among those students who participated in Co-op, 55% report having received at least one full-time job offer from a former Co-op employer. This percentage is the highest reported since the year 2000.
