Policy on Timekeeping and Reporting

I. Purpose and Scope

Time records constitute the basis for payment of wages and of university-authorized paid time off. This policy is intended to promote the efficient processing of payroll and in order to comply with applicable federal and state laws, accurate and timely recording and reporting of time worked is essential. This policy applies to all employees for the recording and reporting of university-authorized paid time off and to non-exempt employees for the recording and reporting of actual hours worked.

II. Definitions

Paid time off is university-authorized accrued vacation, sick time, holidays and other compensated time off.

III. Policy

It is the policy of the university to comply with applicable wage and hour laws. Employees and Department Heads share responsibility to accurately and timely account for time worked and paid time off.

Other employees and/or individuals, including, but not limited to, Department Heads, supervisors, managers and administrative staff may not make such reports. Only the individual employee may report hours actually worked or the use of any paid time off.

All employees must accurately report paid time off to their Department Heads or designees charged with recording paid time off.

Department Heads or their designees must report absences due to illness of more than five (5) days to Human Resources Management (HRM-Benefits)

IV. Additional Information
The university utilizes several means of timekeeping and individual Departments may determine the method most appropriate to their needs in consultation with HRM.

If an employee does not have sufficient sick and/or accrued vacation time when a request for time off is made, HRM must be consulted.

Any employee who consistently inaccurately reports time worked or who improperly reports paid time off or who uses paid time off for unauthorized purposes is subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination. Any employee who knowingly and through any means inaccurately reports time spent working or paid time off is subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination. In instances in which fraud and/or other potential criminal law violations may be indicated, NUPD will be consulted.

Overtime compensation is paid consistent with applicable laws.
