Zoning Redesign

Build Upon Existing Successes and Strengths

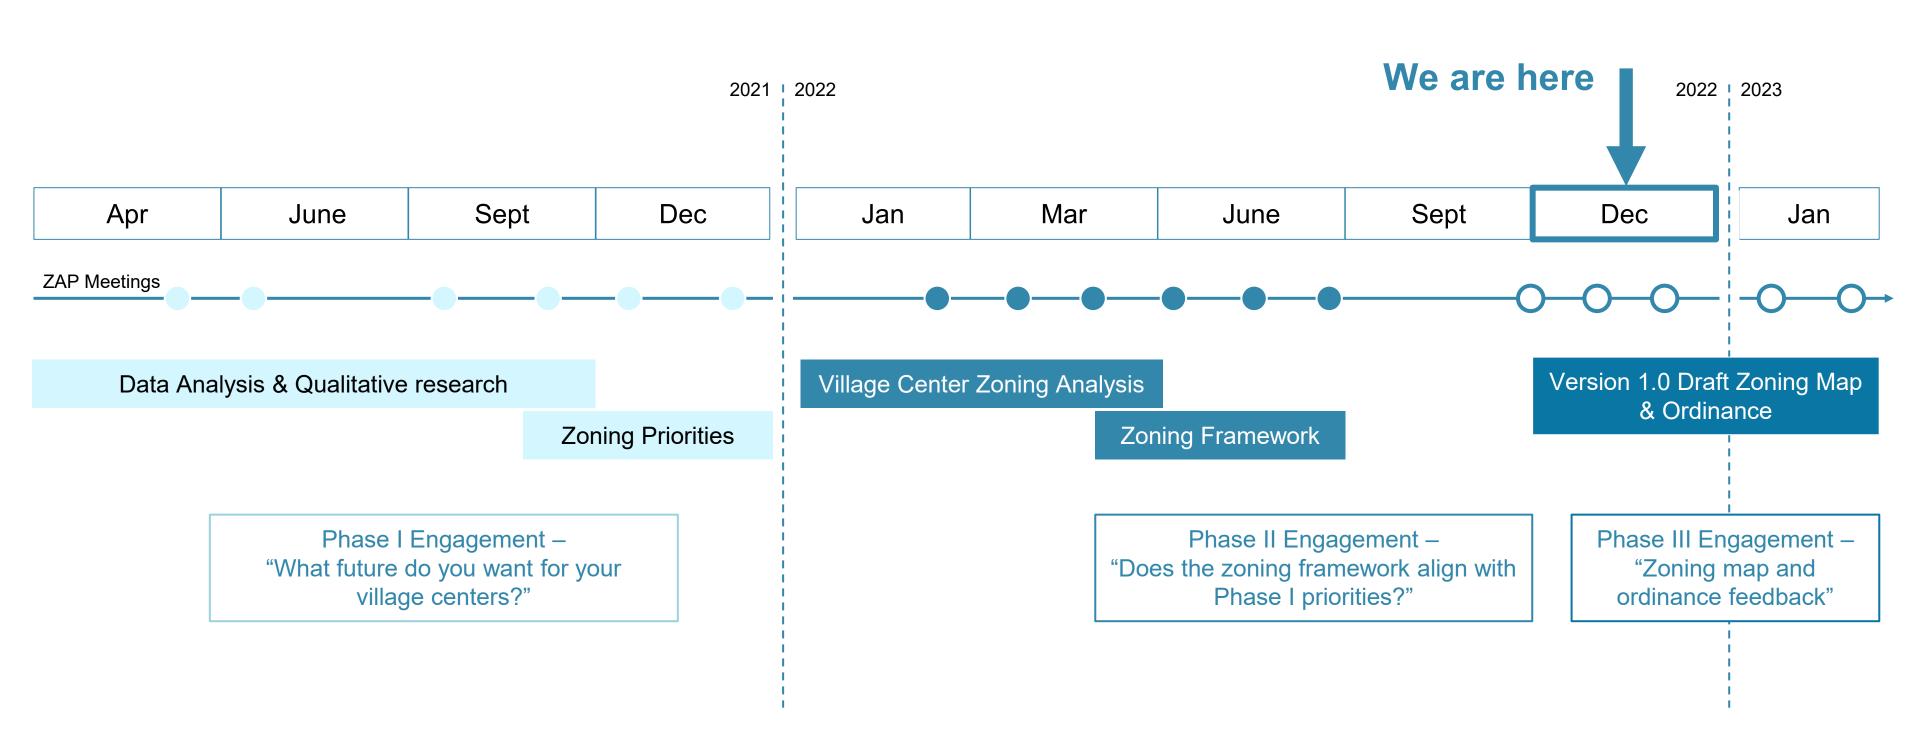

Active and Vibrant Village Centers

Right now, the Newton City Council is considering a set of proposed zoning changes for Newton's village center commercial districts, a set of rules that determines what can be built (the zoning ordinance) and where (the zoning map).

Newton has a strong foundation of diverse and dynamic village centers. However, the current zoning one-size-fitsall format does not recognize this. These draft village center zoning district maps, version 1.0, build upon the successes and uniqueness of each village center, while also guiding development that addresses our current and future needs.

Building Upon A Multi-Year Effort

Zoning Approach

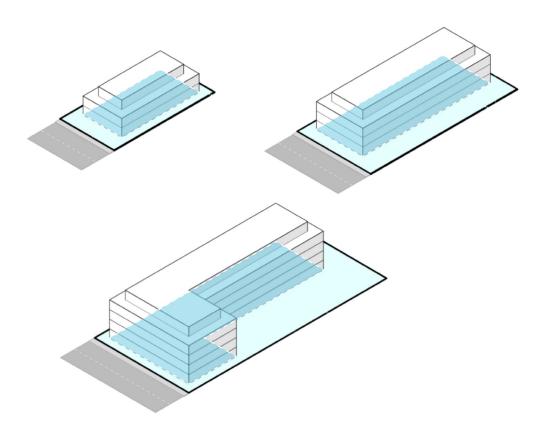

Regulating Urban Form with Three Principal Mechanisms

Building Footprint

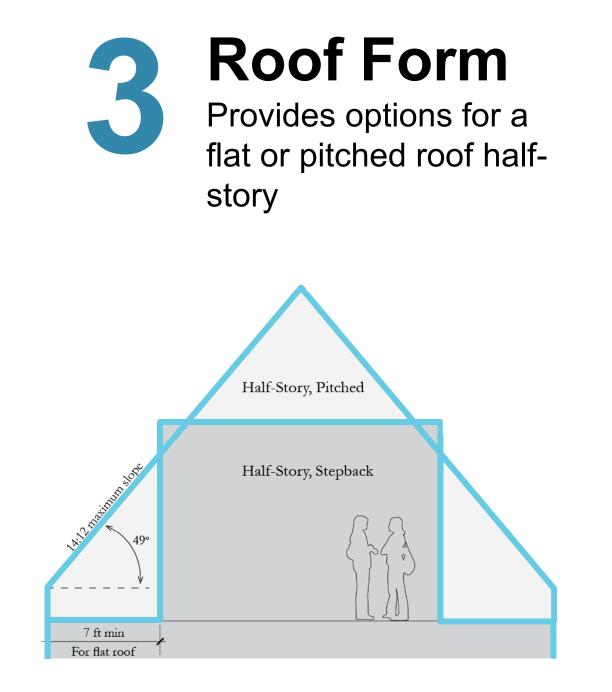

Sets the maximum area per story

Sets the maximum height in stories/feet

Zoning Approach

Additional Controls Further Guide New Development

Large Project Review

Height Impact Reduction

- Site plan review for projects on sites larger than 20,000 sq. ft.
- Special Permit for projects on sites larger than 30,000 sq. ft.

- Maximum height set at a half-story
- Height is reduced by one story when the VC3 abuts a residential zone within 50 feet

Design Standards for All Buildings

- Maximum building length
- Architectural feature incentives (awnings, bay windows, balconies)
- Minimum sidewalk width
- Entry requirements
- Parking located in the back or under

Build Upon Existing Successes and Strengths

Mapping Principals

The following draft maps for the new Village Center Overlay Districts are intentionally meant to be reviewed and updated going forward.

These version 1.0 maps present a customized approach for each village center based on the following mapping principals:

- Earth and site visits
- and inconsistencies
- surrounding neighborhoods

• Visually analyzing street conditions and patterns through Google

Determining zoning, land use, and building type consistencies

Matching the proposed village centers zoning districts on both sides of the street where possible

Stepping down proposed village center districts as they meet the

Considering unique conditions to each area, like street access
