

SERVICE-LEARNING

www.northeastern.edu/communityservice/services/servicelearning.html

As an urban university, service-learning is part of Northeastern's mission. But more than good works, service-learning on our campus is an academically rigorous educational experience that allows students to broaden their knowledge and skills through service that supports our partnerships with Boston schools, neighborhood agencies, health clinics, and nonprofit organizations.

Students participate in organized service projects, coordinated by their professor and/or a program director, which meet needs identified by the community. Before, during, and after their service, students also engage in structured reflection to help them gain further insight into course or program content, a broader appreciation of their academic discipline, and a greater sense of civic responsibility.

Students may engage in service-learning through course work, co-ops and internships, and community-based research.