

NU – IACUC

POLICY

Northeastern University Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee

Ether Use Policy

Northeastern University Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee does not permit the use of ether as an anesthesia. Due to the safety concerns for both animals and humans, and the fact it can cause pulmonary edema in the anesthetized subject, other alternatives are more acceptable. If special conditions occur, the Committee may grant permission for use if scientifically justified on a case-by-case basis.

Approved: