Title IX is the landmark 1972 federal civil rights law that prohibits sex discrimination in education.

All students are protected under Title IX regardless of gender identity or expression.

Sexual violence is not tolerated at Northeastern. Incidents of sexual violence should be reported to Northeastern Public Safety Division (NUPD) and/or Office of Institutional Diversity and Inclusion (OIDI).

Northeastern is proactive in promoting a campus safe and free of sex discrimination and sexual violence.

The policy and procedures for handling incidents of sexual violence are outlined in the Code of Student Conduct and the Title IX Policy.

Students involved in incidents of sexual violence have a right to seek and receive referrals to counseling on and off campus, relocation to a different residence hall, and a change in academic schedule.

Northeastern can issue a no-contact order throughout the conduct process and afterwards as appropriate.

All Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution (OSCCR) cases are treated confidentially and an informational meeting with OSCCR staff is available to discuss any complaint.

Any intentional or attempted act against a person who in good faith makes a report, serves as a witness or participated in an investigation or hearing is a violation of the Code of Student Conduct.

The Title IX Coordinator/EEO Manager is Mary Ann Phillips at OIDI.
