ASCE National Convention in Boston

The ASCE National Convention is returning to Boston, October 27-31, 1986. ASCE has designated Tuesday night, October 28, as Alumni Reunion and Student Chapter Night for colleges in New England. Plans have not been formulated yet, but all alumni are urged to plan on being in Boston that week and getting together on Tuesday night at the Convention. Many NU alumni are involved in the planning of the Convention; Charles Parthum is the General Chairman, and Emile Troup, 2nd Vice President of NUCEAO, is Chairman of the Attendance Promotion Committee. It's just one year away - make plans now to attend the ASCE Convention and "reunite" in Boston.

Reunion Weekend

The first annual reunion of the graduates of Northeastern University's Civil Engineering courses was held at the Lake Morey Inn in Fairlee, Vermont on the weekend of September 13-15. Nine couples, seven from the class of 1948, and one each from '56 and '66, enjoyed the beautiful scenery and excellent facilities at the Lake Morey Inn. Golf, tennis, hiking, and conversation were the main activities during the weekend. The Inn is located just off route 91 in Central Vermont and affords great scenery and spectacular weather.

Although the organization of the reunion got started too late for it to be a well attended function of the Association, we have already begun to plan for next year. It is intended that in the very near future we will present details for the 1986 program, currently scheduled for some time in the month of June. To those of you who were unable to attend this year, the committee guarantees a tremendous weekend next year and suggests that you start thinking about opening the summer season with a "gala affair" with your fellow graduates.

Luncheon Series

The NUCEAO luncheon series began its 1985-86 year on Tuesday, November 19 at a new location, The Hotel 57 Restaurant on Stuart Street in Boston.

Thirty-five members of the organization attended the two hour event which featured a profile of the Civil Engineering Department of Northeastern University by its chairman, Mischac Yegian. Dr. Yegian focused in on the enrollment trends of this and departments nationally and on research efforts conducted by Northeastern in this field.

The next luncheon is slated for late January or early February.
