THE FUTURE OF SECRETS

BY SARAH NEWMAN
CLIC 2019 ARTIST-IN-RESIDENCE

Are secrets uniquely human? Our private lives are mediated and recorded by digital devices. Where are our secrets now? How will intelligent systems of the future process the data we leave behind?

EXHIBITION

Tuesday, September 17, 2019
5:00 - 7:00 PM

Wednesday, September 18, 2019
9:00 AM - 4:00 PM

Dockser Hall Lobby, Northeastern University School of Law

For more information visit www.northeastern.edu/clic

This exhibition is part of CLIC’s ART (Art Resistance Technology) Artist Residency. The residency is a yearlong program that uses the arts to spark, provoke and foster conversations about the intersection of technology and innovation with civil rights, civil liberties and the public interest.

The Future of Secrets is a collaboration with Jessica Yurkofsky (creative technologist) and Rachel Kalmar (data scientist).