Spending a semester abroad is an exciting and rewarding opportunity, and The N.U.in Program is committed to maintaining an academically challenging, healthy, safe and fun environment for all students. As part of this commitment, Northeastern provides staff members at each location who accompany and provide on-site support to students, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Each location has:

• Program Liaison
• International Coordinators

Program Liaisons hold graduate degrees and have experience in the student affairs and international education fields. International Coordinators are bachelor’s or master’s degree holding professionals. Together, this team can respond to a range of concerns and serve as a resource to participants on-site and family members at home.

Each team also has an Assistant Director who is Boston-based. This person coordinates the planning with our international partners prior to enrollment and departure, works with students and parents during the pre-departure process, and communicates with site staff on a daily basis while participants are abroad. Assistant Directors are also a resource for parents and families throughout the fall semester, and are available to answer questions or concerns via email or phone.

STUDENT VISA

Student Visa

All N.U.in students need a passport, which must be valid for at least six months beyond the student’s scheduled program end date. Please visit our website to learn more about the visa process, and for a location-specific visa guide.

It is the student’s responsibility to obtain an appropriate visa, if necessary. If you cannot obtain a valid visa in time for the program start date, then please refer to the N.U.in Withdrawal Policy (found in the myNortheastern student portal) and contact the N.U.in office to discuss next steps.

F-1 Student Visa for the U.S. (International Students only)

All international N.U.in students must apply for a nonimmigrant student visa at a U.S. Embassy or Consulate to start their Spring semester in the U.S. at Northeastern University. For information regarding the requirements for an F-1 Student Visa, please contact your nearest Embassy or Consulate directly.

International students receive an information sheet detailing the application process for a student (F-1) visa with their admissions letter. The first step requires international students to submit certain paperwork, including the Declaration of Finances form to Northeastern. Once students submit the required documentation, they will then receive their I-20. Students must have their F-1 visa and be prepared to arrive to campus in Boston by early January.

N.U.in students who need to obtain F-1 visas will need to plan ahead to ensure there is enough time either on-site or upon returning to their home country after the conclusion of the fall semester to secure the proper documentation needed.

The Office of Global Services (OGS)
The OGS at Northeastern supports international students as they prepare to arrive to campus, and while they are studying in Boston. Students with questions about I-20s or F-1 Student Visas should contact the OGS directly for guidance:

PACKING LIST

Generally, participants should pack as lightly as possible while remembering to bring essential items. This is not an easy task, so we recommend not waiting until the night before to begin packing. We suggest not over-packing, as rooms may be smaller by American standards. Please use the packing list provided on the following two pages as a guide for packing.
General Tips for Packing

• Remove anything that could be perceived as threatening or suspicious at a security checkpoint.
• It is not advised to travel with any kind of fresh food, produce or nuts.
• Avoid over-packing so that all luggage and checked bags can be opened and closed with ease.
• Check with your airline prior to departure for any updates regarding luggage allowances.
• Take a few personal items that will help remind you of home (e.g. pictures, room decor, or anything that you have an emotional tie with).
• Leave valuable items at home, especially family heirlooms that cannot be replaced.
• Medication should be placed in hand luggage, in the original container with the owners name and description of the medication written on the packaging.
• Pack weather appropriate clothes and comfortable walking shoes.
• While abroad, weather can be variable, especially depending on the season.

Pack Lightly!

• Remember, WHATEVER YOU PACK, YOU WILL HAVE TO CARRY. Be conscious of the weight of your bags, since transporting them around the world on planes, trains, and buses will be difficult if you over-pack.
• Put everything you plan to pack on your bed. Then, pack HALF of that amount. Most students say they brought about twice as much clothing as they needed!
• Bring mostly clothes that are machine washable. Dry cleaning may be expensive. Dark clothing will not show wear as quickly.
• In most cases, it may be better to purchase toiletries and appliances (hair dryers and straighteners) once you are on-site.

Outlet/Plug

An outlet adapter is a device that will allow appliances to be plugged into foreign outlets. They can be purchased at most electronics stores. Students may want to consider buying a universal adapter if they are planning to travel during breaks to other countries.

Voltage Converter

The electricity supply voltage varies across countries. Some electrical appliances will require a converter. We strongly recommend that participants purchase items like hair straighteners and blow dryers on-site to ensure compatibility. It is possible that the U.S. versions of these appliances will either not work abroad or will be ruined when used with a converter.

GROUP FLIGHT

Pre-departure

Participants on the Group Flight must check their email for an important Departure Information communication that will include all details for the day of travel, including phone numbers to call in case of a travel delay or emergency. To ensure the safety of everyone, both students traveling on the Group Flight and those traveling independently must provide N.U.in with the details of their itinerary, including any and all connecting flights. Students will receive an email prompting them to provide these flight details prior to departure.

Travel to Sites

Participants on the Group Flight will travel from select hub cities like Boston, New York, and Los Angeles. N.U.in site staff will greet them in the airport on-site. Buses will be waiting to take students directly to the student residence hall.

We ask that participants wear their N.U.in t-shirt for identification purposes in the airport.

Departure

On the last day of the program, buses will be arranged to bring participants on the Group Flight to the airport from the residence hall. From there, students will go through security together and travel as a group back to their destinations. Students may depart for home, or travel elsewhere, once all finals and academic requirements have been completed. Students are required to depart from their program’s residence facility on the last day of the program.
INDEPENDENT TRAVELERS

Pre-departure

Any participant who chooses to fly to their site separately from the Group Flight books his/her own flights and will receive a credit on their bill equal to the cost of one Group Flight airline ticket to their fall semester tuition bill.

Just like participants on the Group Flight, independent travelers must check their email for an important Departure Information communication that will include all details for the day of travel, including phone numbers to call in case of a travel delay or emergency. To ensure the safety of everyone, both students traveling on the Group Flight and those traveling independently must provide N.U.in with the details of their itinerary, including any and all connecting flights. Students will receive an email prompting them to provide these flight details prior to departure.

Getting On-site

Participants travelling independently from their home cities to their N.U.in location must arrive on site by the program start date. If an independent traveler’s flight arrives on site around the same time as the Group Flight, he/she may utilize the buses set up for those students. Otherwise, independent travelers must arrange their own transportation to their student residences.

Students arranging their own transportation to campus should note the address of the student residence found on the Housing page on the N.U.in site specific webpage.

Departure from site

On the last day of the program, buses will be arranged to take participants to the airport from the residence hall. If an independent traveler’s flight is departing on or around the same time as the Group Flight, he/she may utilize these buses to get to the airport. Otherwise, independent travelers are responsible for their own transportation to the airport.
ABOUT MELBOURNE

Location & Time Zone

Melbourne is a cosmopolitan city with a population of 4 million, located in the southeast of Australia, along the coast, in the state of Victoria. It is within the AEST (Australian Eastern Standard Time) zone, and the time difference between the Eastern Standard Time in the U.S. fluctuates throughout the semester (13-15 hours ahead), based upon daylight savings time.

Climate & Weather

Melbourne has a reputation for its changeable weather. A tip for any visitor is to be prepared for anything – take an umbrella and wear layers that can be added or removed as needed.

REMEMBER: Participants will be in Australia during WINTER and EARLY SPRING. The weather in Melbourne can be variable, especially during these seasons. Expect warm and cool, rainy and dry, windy and calm all in one day during these times.

Public Transportation

The student residence hall is conveniently situated next to the Glenferrie Train Station (pictured below), making downtown Melbourne a short 10-minute ride away. Around the station, there is also a bustling area with stores, cafés and entertainment.

More broadly, the Public Transport Victoria system is comprised of trains, trams, and buses, all of which work together in a safe and effective network across the city of Melbourne and its suburbs. Students will be given Myki cards to pay for their trips between Hawthorn and the Melbourne Central Business District.
Money & Banking

Australia’s currency is the Australian Dollar (AUD). Current rates of conversion can be found on an array of different websites (e.g. Oanda, Google).

Participants are strongly discouraged from opening an Australian bank account while abroad. We recommend using an ATM card to withdraw money. Visa and Mastercard are the most widely accepted credit cards in Australia. Students should notify their bank and creditors that they will be studying in Melbourne prior to their arrival to ensure that the bank does not enact fraud procedures and deactivate or lock the student’s bank cards. Credit cards should be used wisely though, as the foreign transaction fees can add up quickly. We recommend that participants conduct research prior to departure to better understand how their bank cards will work abroad. Certain credit cards do not have foreign transaction fees, and some banks have partnerships abroad to allow for withdrawals to be done without a fee.

Cultural Overview

Melbourne has much to offer in terms of food, fashion, sport, and events throughout the year. Often referred to as the culinary capital of Australia, Melbourne has a vast array of restaurants offering a myriad of international cuisines. Bustling Chinatown, in the heart of the city, serves up the finest of Asian cuisine and culture. Several other Melbourne streets are dedicated to Vietnamese, Japanese, Italian and Greek food. The city is also a great place for buying fresh food. Queen Victoria Market is the largest open air market in the southern hemisphere.

Often recognized as Australia’s shopping and fashion capital, the city center has many cool laneways and tree-lined streets that are a haven for small boutiques specializing in Australian designers, jewelry, accessories and international fashion.

Sport is a significant part of Australian culture, and many of Australia’s most significant sporting events are held in Melbourne, including The Australian Open, AFL (Australian Rules Football) matches, and The Melbourne Cup horse race.
SWINBURNE UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY

About Swinburne University of Technology

The N.U.in Australia: SUT Program has been partners with Swinburne University of Technology (SUT) since 2007. Swinburne began with a rather simple premise in 1908: to offer technical education to people in Melbourne’s eastern suburbs. Since then, SUT has continuously grown to extend its presence within Australia and internationally.

Hawthorn Area

N.U.in students take classes and live on Swinburne’s Hawthorn campus, located directly outside of Melbourne’s Central Business District (CBD). Hawthorn offers many shops, cafes, and restaurants, alongside necessities such as grocery stores and pharmacies. This student-friendly suburb is the perfect setting for studying and relaxing, with the bustle of the center city just a short 10-minute train ride away.

Campus Buildings & Resources

SUT’s Hawthorn campus offers access to a top-tier library, wireless internet, and a wide range of student organizations and activities. The following buildings will soon become familiar:

Swinburne Abroad (SwinAbroad) Office: N.U.in staff available here during business hours
The George: Health & Counseling Services, Language & Academic Skills Unit, Disability Support Services, Multi-faith Center
Library: Research material, study spaces, and printers available
STUDENT RESIDENCE

Overview

N.U.in students live in Swinburne Place, centrally located on SUT’s campus. Students are housed in 3 or 4 bedroom apartments, primarily with N.U.in participants as well as with other international students. Each bedroom is equipped with a bed, desk, chair, and closet. Each apartment has a lounge area and a kitchen. Please note students will need to provide their own cutlery, dishes, and other cooking equipment. The setups will be as follows:

- 3 bedroom apartments are equipped with 1 bathroom/toilet plus 1 extra toilet
- 4 bedroom apartments are equipped with 2 bathrooms/toilets
- Students live in private bedrooms within shared apartments
- Students will be provided with a basic linen package, including:
  1. Fitted Sheet
  2. Flat Sheet
  3. Pillow
  4. Pillow Case
  5. Duvet (with cover)

Mailing Address

[Name] Swinburne Place apt. #_ _ _
24 Wakefield St.
Hawthorn VIC 3122
Australia
Common areas

There are common areas available to all residents of Swinburne Place such as outdoor recreation decks, a barbecue area, a student lounge and games room, and separate study rooms.

Laundry

Laundry facilities are on site and free for student use. Students will need to provide their own detergent.

Moving In & Out

After arriving in Australia, participants will complete a room condition report within 48 hours of moving in to document the condition of the apartment.

It is important that students document the precise condition of the apartment upon arrival to ensure that they are not billed for damages for which they are not responsible. Upon moving in, students will turn in a credit card authorization form, allowing SUT to bill students for any damages to their apartments at the end of the semester.

Roommate Placement

The N.U.in Australia: SUT students may live with two or three roommates within Swinburne Student Residences. Students receive their roommate assignments once they arrive in Melbourne. We encourage students to develop adaptability skills and to broaden their social network as much as possible, and as such, we are not able to accommodate roommate requests.

Living with roommates can certainly be an adjustment for some students. Students can prevent conflict by being proactive with their communication. Keep in mind that the N.U.in on-site staff is available to students who are seeking advice about how to handle a roommate conflict.
PROGRAMMING & EXCURSIONS

Programming

The N.U.in Program aims to foster the development of a tightly-knit community. One avenue for community-building is programming, planned by both SUT and N.U.in staff. Our International Coordinators are involved in planning weekly free or low-cost activities to encourage students to come together for some fun and to get to know each other.

Programs cover a variety of topics, including, but not limited to, local culture/events, academics, health and safety, and transition to Northeastern. Some examples from past years include:

- “Family” dinners around the city
- Melbourne Aquarium outing
- St. Kilda trip
- Tim Tam Tuesday
- N.U.in Husky Day
- Cupcakes & Career Building

Excursions

Also included in the program fee are several excursions which take place throughout the semester. In Australia, students will have the chance to discover different areas around Melbourne, and spend time in other parts of Australia. Dates will be confirmed once students are on site. The following are examples from past years, and are subject to change:

N.U.in-sponsored Trips
- Great Ocean Road
- Sydney

SUT-sponsored Trips
- Healesville Animal Sanctuary
- Phillip Island
- Surfing at Torquay

N.U.in staff accompany participants on all sponsored excursions, and all transportation is pre-planned and included. Students will be required to sign up for all excursions prior to attending so that appropriate plans may be made. While excursions are not mandatory, please understand that they are included in the cost of the program, and monetary credits cannot be issued to participants who do not attend.
STAYING IN TOUCH WITH HOME

Staying in Touch

Keeping in touch with family and friends back home can be difficult at times with the hustle and bustle of classes, adjusting to a new country, and the myriad activities and adventures that can be had while abroad. Past N.U.in students have suggested that it is best to set up a schedule for calling home to check in every week. Frequency of check-ins, of course, can vary depending on students’ schedules, but having a set time can make time differences much easier and less stressful to handle.

By far the least expensive way to stay in touch with family and friends back at home is over the Internet. There are choices of instant messaging services that allow voice chat (such as WhatsApp messenger), or voice over IP phone programs such as Skype, which allow you to video chat for free, or call directly to a phone for a small per-minute fee. For an annual fee, you can purchase a local US number, allowing family and friends at home to call and pay what they would to call an area code in the U.S. Calls are received through a computer and voicemails can be left with this service. The person at the other end also has to be connected and running the same program (i.e., calls are best scheduled ahead of time).

Cell Phones

As per Northeastern University’s International Travel Connectivity Policy, all students traveling outside of the U.S. on Northeastern University-sponsored programs, including The N.U.in Program, must carry an operational cell phone with international calling, SMS, and cellular data capabilities. Phones must be able to receive incoming and make outgoing phone calls without relying solely on data-calling or a Wi-Fi signal, throughout the entire N.U.in semester. Users must be reachable at all times.

There are several options to fulfill this requirement including adding international coverage to your existing mobile phone service or buying a local SIM card upon arrival. The N.U.in Program does not endorse any particular cell phone plan or company. Thus, it is recommended that students research mobile phone providers for options.
CULTURE SHOCK

As a visitor from another country, you may experience culture shock at some point during your N.U.in experience. Culture shock is defined as the lack of direction, the feeling of not knowing what to do or how to do things in a new environment, and not knowing what is appropriate or inappropriate. The feeling of culture shock generally sets in after the first few weeks of arriving to a new place. Some students experience all of these symptoms, while others may not encounter any feelings of culture shock. Generally, most students will fall somewhere between the extremes.

Symptoms of Culture Shock

- Comparisons and unwarranted criticism of the new culture and people
- Constant complaints about the climate
- Heightened irritability
- Preoccupation with returning home
- Continual offering of excuses for staying indoors
- Utopian ideas concerning one’s previous culture
- Continuous concern about the purity of water and food
- Refusal to learn the language
- Preoccupation about being robbed or cheated
- Pressing desire to talk with people who “really make sense”

Dealing With Culture Shock

These are a few strategies that participants can implement to help cope with the stress of culture shock. Remember, these are easier said than done, so students will really need to push themselves to act on the following:

- Realize that this is a normal process
- Don’t be quick to judge – keep an open mind
- Set some personal goals and evaluate your progress
- Get involved in activities or find a hobby
- Talk to your site staff – they can help
- Make an appointment to see an on-site mental health professional
- Ask questions
- Exercise
- Be patient and don’t compare.
- Don’t take yourself too seriously.
- Treat yourself to your “must haves” from a specialty market.
- Allow yourself to feel sad about the things that you have left behind: your family, your friends, etc.
- Find ways to live with the things that don’t satisfy you 100%
OVERVIEW

Courses

Students will receive a full semester’s worth of credits. Please reference the Academics pages on each site’s webpage for a list of course offerings.

FALL & SPRING COURSE REGISTRATION

Fall Course Registration

Participants should have already registered for courses online through their myNortheastern portals. Schedules (with days and times) will be available to students upon arrival on-site.

Fall Course Changes

In May, our partners begin to prepare their resources and have a number of elements to consider, including classroom space, number of sections for each course, scheduling, availability of faculty, etc. Before any changes are made on-site to a student’s schedule, The N.U.in Program and Northeastern University Advisors must confirm and approve any changes. Students who receive AP/IB/other college credit can have their schedules adjusted by their academic advisors only.

Spring

Registration for spring classes takes place in early- to mid-November. The registration process is different for each college. When processing course registration, advisors have access to current N.U.in course information and any transfer credit and/or AP/IB credit completed during high school through college courses or examinations. Depending upon the flexibility of their major’s curriculum, students may be pre-registered for all, or just a few, courses during the month of November by their advisors. Northeastern college advisors will contact students via email regarding course selection and any college-specific protocols in October.

All students meet with their academic advisors during Spring New Student Orientation in January to finalize their schedules and to rectify any concerns. If students have additional questions they may contact their college directly. Contact information for academic advisors can be found on the N.U.in website.
AUSTRALIAN ACADEMIC ENVIRONMENT & STRUCTURE

General Information

Swinburne University of Technology operates 12 week semesters, followed by a 2-3 week final exam period. Most classes have 3-6 hours of contact per week, distributed between lectures and smaller groups (tutorials, seminars, labs).

Academic Environment & Etiquette

The overall environment is generally informal, with titles like “professor” seldom being used. Informality should not be confused with slackness, however. The workload is not excessive, but students can expect to do 2 hours of work at home for every 1 hour in class. Faculty and students often have a friendly working relationship when expectations are met on both ends.

Some classes will be with locals, while others will be primarily N.U.in students. Talking to fellow students is not permitted in lectures, though it is very much encouraged in tutorials, when appropriate. Remember that as international students, you have a different outlook, and your specific cultural expertise is highly valued. Most lecturers and tutors like interaction and are willing to be challenged.

Studying

When it comes to classes, preparation counts a lot. Lectures are usually designed to provide broad overviews and key concepts, with readings included to offer more detailed coverage. Tutorials, seminars, and labs allow students to test ideas or practice skills learned in lectures and through independent study.

Exams & Success

Assessment (tests) tends to be continuous rather than based on mid-terms/finals only, though some classes do weigh exams more heavily. Exams are very formal in Australia, and may be intimidating for those who have never experienced this atmosphere previously. Students will be required to bring their ID, and no belongings are allowed in the exam room. Academic integrity is especially important, and any form of cheating or plagiarism will not be tolerated.

To be successful, participants should attend all classes and tutorials (email your lecturer if you are unable to attend because of illness), keep up with the readings and homework, and hand in all assignments on time. One of the most common mistakes students make is not asking for help when it is needed. Resources are available for students who need assistance, but they must seek out tutoring or extra support.

Learn the Lingo!

In Australia...

RESOURCES & ACCESSING THE NORTHEASTERN LIBRARY

Seeking Assistance

Tutoring and additional support is available for participants, but they must first seek out these resources. Students may speak to their lecturer or an N.U.in staff member to discuss any issues that they may be having academically. At the midpoint of the semester, each student will sit down with site staff for an individualized check-in meeting. These meetings are used to identify how students are adjusting culturally, as well as academically, and can be a good opportunity for students to reach out for assistance before beginning the second half of the semester.

Academic Resources

The Learning and Academic Skills (LAS) team is made up of teachers who can help with reading, writing, listening and speaking skills (as well as many others) – both in and out of the classroom.

One of the most useful resources that students can utilize is the Maths and Statistics Help (MASH) Centre, which is staffed by tutors Monday-Friday; no appointment is necessary. The MASH Centre can be used for:

- Independent work - study by yourself or in a group
- One-to-one or group tutoring sessions
- Additional classes held to support mathematics subjects
- Students have access to the SUT campus library facilities

Accessing the Northeastern Library

N.U.in students may utilize the electronic resources available through the Northeastern University Library by accessing http://www.library.northeastern.edu.

Learning Disabilities

Swinburne is committed to increasing and enhancing practices and educational opportunities for people with disabilities. Disability Liaison Officers are available and fully participate by determining students’ needs and clarifying the necessary information to be passed on to academic staff. Any participant requiring accommodations must provide documentation to the N.U.in office prior to departure. Upon arriving to Australia, students must make an appointment with a Disability Liaison Officer to review their documentation and develop an individualized plan based upon the necessary accommodations.
THE GLOBAL EXPERIENCE COURSE

Overview

The Global Experience course is a one-credit class taught by each location’s N.U.in site staff (International Coordinators and Program Liaisons). All participants at all locations take this class, making it a main unifying element of The N.U.in Program.

Course Description

The main aim of this one-credit course is to help participants prepare for, gain from, and reflect upon their term abroad as a global experience. Through workshops, seminars, course readings, discussions, and local civic engagement, the course challenges students to become global citizens and ambassadors by actively participating in their own learning community as well as in the greater study abroad community, Northeastern, and beyond. Ongoing reflection helps students articulate their own experiences, respond to the experiences of others, and ultimately make connections between the two.

Digital Storytelling Project

The final project in The Global Experience is a reflection video, created by students to look back upon their time in their host countries as well as their experiences with Service-Learning.

SERVICE-LEARNING

Service-Learning Placements

All N.U.in students engage in ongoing Service-Learning placements as part of The N.U.in Program. Having this exciting component built into their semester enables students to build relationships with their respective organizations, engage in meaningful service, and see a different side of the host country’s culture by further integrating into the local community. Simultaneously, participants develop professional skills that they can apply to future courses, co-ops, jobs, and study abroad experiences. N.U.in students typically participate in a combination of weekly individual service commitments and one-time group service events.

What is Service-Learning?

Service-Learning differs from traditional volunteerism in that the volunteering is ongoing, tied to the academic curriculum, and paired with purposeful reflection. In this form of experiential learning, students engage in hands-on service roles, through which they learn about and apply course concepts while intentionally addressing the needs identified by community-based partners.
SERVICE-LEARNING PLACEMENTS

Service-Learning placements in past years included:

• Bounce Refugee Youth Mentoring: students have planned programs and workshops to assist youth in developing skills to succeed in Australia

• Oz Harvest: students have picked up and delivered food for soup kitchens to help those less fortunate around Melbourne

• Australian Red Cross: students have assisted with store merchandising and organizing, interacting with local community members

Participants are assigned to their Service-Learning organization once they arrive in Melbourne.

TEXTBOOKS

A textbook list will be available on the N.U.in website prior to departure, though we recommend that participants wait until arriving on site to purchase the necessary books. It is generally a good idea to review the syllabus for a class prior to buying any materials. Packing textbooks is also cumbersome when traveling abroad.

GRADING & TRANSCRIPTS

Grades received from SUT will look very different when compared to what students may be used to seeing. The grade conversion chart on the next page provides an outline of the Swinburne grades and their approximate conversion to Northeastern grades.

Official transcripts for The N.U.in Program are issued by our partner institutions, and will be mailed to the N.U.in Program office in Boston after completion of the fall semester. They will be distributed at a set time and place, and then will be available for pick-up from our office. In order to receive transfer credit, participants must attain a grade of “C” or better in the US grading system.

In accordance with Northeastern’s transfer credit policies, participants’ final grades will not appear on their Northeastern transcripts or count toward their GPAs. Each student’s Northeastern degree audit and official transcript will only reflect that he or she has received credit for a course, but not the grade itself. However, if a student decides to transfer to a different school or applies for further educational opportunities or scholarships, official transcripts from all institutions attended will typically be requested.

GENERAL SAFETY INFORMATION

Just as in any city, it is important for students to take precautions, be mindful of their surroundings, and follow basic safety principles.

• Walk along well-lit areas and avoid alleys or poorly-lit areas.
• Always carry the emergency contact card given at orientation.
• Use the buddy system and do not travel alone at night.
• Avoid public demonstrations, riots, and other civil disturbances.
• Keep a low profile, and avoid loud conversations or arguments.
• Do not discuss travel plans or other personal matters with strangers.
• Wear the shoulder strap of your bag across your chest.
• Look purposeful when moving about. Even if lost, act as if you know where you are going.
• Try to ask for directions only from individuals in authority (police officer, train operator, etc.).
• Make a note of emergency telephone numbers: the N.U.in staff, police, fire, hotel (if traveling), and the nearest U.S. embassy or consulate and/or the local embassy, consulate, or mission of your home country.

Registering Your Travel Plans

As an added layer of protection, students must register their travel plans with the greater Northeastern community, the U.S. Department of State, the embassy or consulate of your home country, and WorldAware.

Registering Travel & Downloading the WorldCue Mobile App

• The University’s International Safety Office and N.U.in will enter the program dates, accommodations, and group flight information into the University’s travel registry system (iJET WorldCUE) for all program participants.

• N.U.in participants will receive a confirmation email from WorldcueTraveler@ijet.com that provides instructions to activate the user account and download the WorldCue Mobile App.

• Participants must verify the accuracy of travel details and update personal information.

• N.U.in participants who obtain approval to deviate from the program (for example, a weekend trip away from the program site) must register the travel details by logging into their user account at www.traveler.worldcue.com or by visiting “My Travel Plans” in the myNortheastern portal.

• For travel registration instructions and information about the mobile app, visit: https://provost.northeastern.edu/international-travel/

• If you have any questions, please email mytravelplans@northeastern.edu
Register for Smart Traveler Enrollment Program (STEP) with US Department of State

- Visit the US Embassy Website: https://travelregistration.state.gov
  - Citizens of all countries can register with the US State Department in order to receive travel alerts and advisories
  - Dual/Non-US Citizens should also register with the embassy, consulate, or mission of their home country

Travel Information Form

The N.U. in Program would like to collect travel information for all participants. Whether you are traveling to your N.U. in location on the Group Flight, or you are traveling independently, we would appreciate your cooperation in providing us with your travel plans.
MEDICAL FACILITIES

SUT has a private clinic located on campus with general practitioners and nurses who are available during normal operating hours. The Health Services at Swinburne University can provide first aid, medical consultations, health counseling, health promotion and health information at low or no cost to students. If students need further, or more emergent care, there is a hospital near campus that students may visit, if necessary.

HEALTH INSURANCE & WORLDAWARE

Health Insurance

All N.U. in Australia: SUT students are required to maintain health insurance as part of their visa requirements and are covered by Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC), an authorized provider of health coverage for international students. The cost for this health coverage is included in the N.U. in Program fee.

OSHC representatives are on campus at SUT several days each week to assist students with all inquiries. Students can inquire about their OSHC policy, seek advice when filing claims for reimbursement, obtain instructions about how to order an OSHC membership card online, and much more.

OSHC is sufficient for a routine doctor’s visit to address a head cold or a sore throat. However, if a participant has a pre-existing condition that can be managed while abroad, but will require some medical attention, consider looking into additional coverage. We recommend reading the OSHC policy documents carefully, looking into what your current insurance carrier will cover abroad, and making a decision as a family about what additional coverage is necessary.

International students might need to arrange for coverage with a company in their home country. Most policies do not cover international students traveling in a country other than the U.S.

Students with questions about Northeastern University’s urgent or emergency insurance can review https://provost.northeastern.edu/international-travel/health-safety/insurance/ and email insurance@northeastern.edu to reach the NU Office of Risk Services

Packing Prescriptions

Please note that not all medications may be available in Germany. If possible, arrangements should be made for bringing an entire semester’s worth of medication or for shipping medications to the student throughout the duration of the semester. Aon WorldAware can be a very useful resource for questions about prescription medication, availability, and restrictions. Call the WorldAware operations center at +1.312.470.3108.

Ensure that a doctor’s note/prescription accompanies any controlled substances. Additionally, please pack prescription medications in carry-on luggage in their original containers.
WorldAware

WorldAware provides students with access to worldwide, access to quality health professionals, travel warnings, and emergency health and safety assistance services 24-hours a day. This can include access to logistics coordinators, doctors, security professionals, and network providers like hospitals, physicians, ambulances, and aviation resources. Membership provides students with pre-travel information and advice, rapid response, emergency help, and evacuation capabilities.

All N.U.in students are automatically enrolled in WorldAware, and will receive an email with information on how to access the mobile application. Once the traveler downloads the app and creates a profile, he/she is able to access helpful travel advice via the risk managed travel website, and receive alerts for his/her travel destination. They may contact WorldAware at the following number specific to Northeastern University members: +1.312.470.3108.

For more information about the university’s travel support provider please visit: https://provost.northeastern.edu/international-travel/health-safety/travel-support-services/

Before departure, to prepare:

• Access accurate, updated information on the WorldAware mobile application.
• Visit the risk managed travel website or call the WorldAware operations center for pre-travel information (e.g. vaccination, required medications, and travel security concerns)
• Information regarding prescription medication or medical equipment.
• If you have questions about travel, contact The N.U.in Program office, WorldAware, or email mytravelplans@northeastern.edu.

While abroad, stay healthy, safe and secure. Contact WorldAware for:

• Health, safety and security advice.
• Access to speak with an experienced, Western-trained doctor or security specialist.
• Assistance finding a local doctor or other provider credentialed by their medical staff.
• Assistance due to the loss of travel documents or legal advice.

In an emergency, call WorldAware immediately to:

• Arrange for medical transportation or care.
• Coordinate medical fees, when approved (note: WorldAware may front costs for medical care while your personal insurance is pending, but as it is not an insurance provider it will not cover any costs).
• Monitor local conditions and receive advice via email or push alerts.
• Evacuate to a center of medical excellence if local care is inadequate.
• Provide help if one’s personal safety is at risk.
• Contact family members whom the participants indicate are emergency points of contact.

Access WorldCue Mobile Application

• All participants are automatically enrolled in WorldAware and will receive an email with information on how to access the mobile application.
• Search “WorldCue” on your mobile phone application store to download.
• Access http://www.northeastern.edu/international-travel/assistance-while-abroad/
• Save the number to contact WorldAware, specific to Northeastern University: +1.312.470.3108.
The Northeastern Code of Student Conduct

The purpose of the Code of Conduct is to set expectations of behavior that promote the safety and welfare of the Northeastern University community. The University seeks to provide a supportive environment that is conducive to learning, the pursuit of truth, the exchange of knowledge, the intellectual development of students, and the general good of society. In those instances where violations of the behavioral expectations occur, Northeastern University has developed policies and procedures to protect the rights of members of the University community, individually and collectively.

The N.U.in Supplement

This supplemental guide establishes the guidelines and processes specific to The N.U.in Program, as they may differ from or incorporate the Northeastern University Code of Student Conduct.

As a participant in The N.U.in Program, you are responsible for adhering to the rules and regulations published in Northeastern University’s Code of Student Conduct, the policies of your partner institution or educational partner, and the guidelines set forth and/or referenced in the supplemental guide, as may be amended from time to time. Behavior by participants at any time during The N.U.in Program that is found in violation of the Code of Student Conduct, this supplemental guide, partner institution conduct policies, local, state, federal law or laws of the host country could adversely affect the educational mission of N.U.in and Northeastern University or its relationship with the surrounding international community and may subject participants to discipline.

The N.U.in Program seeks to provide participants with an opportunity to have an early study abroad experience, increase their intercultural competency, and form a supportive community that facilitates the transition from high school to college, with the opportunity to earn academic credit. In addition, The N.U.in Program strives to provide participants with a healthy, supportive and welcoming community. In those instances where violations of the behavioral expectations set forth in the aforementioned documents occur, The N.U.in Program and Northeastern University have developed procedures to address the violations, with the goal of serving the interests of members of the community, individually, and collectively.

The N.U.in Program site staff will administratively handle alleged violations that occur at an N.U.in site and involve an N.U.in participant. The Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution, in collaboration with the NU Global Office and Northeastern University Admissions, will handle alleged violations that occur at an N.U.in site, involve an N.U.in participant, and could involve withdrawal and/or removal from The N.U.in Program or rescission of admission to Northeastern University. Find both of these documents on our website.
EMERGENCY PROTOCOL

Duty & Staff Availability

The first point of contact for participants is always the N.U. in staff. International Coordinators (ICs) live within the same building as the students, and serve in a similar capacity as Resident Assistants (RAs) in Northeastern residence halls. Additional staff may be provided by our partner institutions to assist within the residence halls or with cultural adjustment and understanding. Students should feel comfortable approaching our staff and asking for assistance or advice at any time. Travelers should familiarize themselves with the local resources which may include, residential staff, host institution staff, emergency responders on-site or in the community, etc. This information will be made available to participants during PDO and on-site orientation.

One site staff is on-call at all times, meaning that a staff member can always be reached, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. There will be a specific on-call phone number to be distributed to students prior to departure or on arrival. Participants may contact this number for emergency reasons. Common concerns include inquiries about how to set up a doctor’s appointment, visit a hospital, or navigate an emergency situation, though any question can be addressed to a staff member on duty.

Doctor & Hospital Visits

Students can request guidance at any time when it comes to medical care and visits, and site staff are always available to accompany a student to a doctor’s appointment. Typically, students are seen by a local doctor for routine ailments such as a cold, cough, or sore throat. The local doctor or clinic may recommend that a student visit a hospital for any more serious injury or illness. In an emergency situation, a student may be transported directly to a hospital. Staff usually accompany students for all hospital visits, especially in emergency situations.

Escalated Incidents

Participants will typically contact the on-call phone first, and speak with the site staff on-call. Depending upon the situation, a staff member may become involved, along with any medical professionals, if needed. If an incident is more serious, the Boston office will be contacted by site staff, ensuring that all members of the N.U. in team are aware of any escalated situations on-site.

Parental Notification

Parents will be contacted in the event of a medical emergency. The N.U. in team will encourage participants to make the initial contact to their parents, though staff will reach out to parents if the student is unable to do so.
TRAVELING WHILE ABROAD

Policies for Travel While On-site

Participants may travel to locations outside of their host cities/countries if they wish. As a safety precaution, any student who leaves for one or more nights must fill out an Acknowledgement of Risk and Informed Consent for Program Deviation form. This online form collects information including the dates and destination, means of travel and any flight/train numbers and times, and names of other students who may be traveling as a group. This form will be made available before students arrive on site.

WITHDRAWAL POLICY

A. INTRODUCTION:

Advance planning and commitments are required to support The N.U.in Program. Immediately upon your deposit, N.U.in makes financial commitments to travel agents, as well as to each partner institution to secure housing, class space, and co-curricular activities. Therefore, a participant who withdraws from the Program at any time after deposit will be responsible for all non-recoverable expenses incurred by The N.U.in Program (related to the withdrawing participant). Non-recoverable expenses may include but are not limited to incurred travel costs, partner institution tuition, and housing costs. You are urged to plan carefully and are required to review and understand this withdrawal policy.

B. PAYMENT TERMS AND CONDITIONS:

1. Enrollment Deposits:
   - A Fall Enrollment Deposit of $1200 is due by May 1, 2018 and a second Fall Enrollment Deposit of $2500 is due by June 1, 2018.
   - These deposits secure your enrollment in The N.U.in Program and will be applied to your fall Program fee. Please note that these deposits are non-refundable and if a deposit is not timely made, enrollment in the Program is forfeited.

2. TuitionPay Options:

C. PRE-DEPARTURE:

Pre-departure is defined as the time between the University’s receipt of your deposits and your arrival to your N.U.in destination. Participants who withdraw during the pre-departure period will only be refunded in the event that there is a credit after the University has assessed non-recoverable costs. The University will not refund initial deposits of $1200 and $2500. As discussed above, the University may not be able to recover costs such as non-refundable fees and charges that Northeastern University has paid on behalf of Program participants such as: flights, tuition, student fees, housing, excursions, and other Program expenses. Recoverable costs may include any portions of such fees and costs that the University is able to recover and refund to the student. If for any reason, The N.U.in Program is cancelled after the University has received a participant’s deposit, the University may place the participant at an alternative N.U.in destination. If there are no alternative destinations, the participant will be refunded the deposits as well as all payments made to date.

N.U.in participants must adhere to the standards of conduct outlined in the Northeastern Code of Student Conduct and the N.U.in Program Supplemental Guide to Participant Conduct throughout the Pre-departure period. Failure to do so may result in the removal of the participant from The N.U.in Program and may also prompt a review of the participant’s spring admission status. Any additional costs incurred by The N.U.in Program as a result of a participant’s withdrawal will be at the participant’s expense.

D. POST-DEPARTURE:

There are no refunds if the participant withdraws from The N.U.in Program after leaving for The N.U.in destination. Additionally, there are no partial refunds for course drops. N.U.in participants are required to adhere to the participant conduct policies outlined by their host institution, applicable Northeastern University policies and procedures, the Northeastern Code of Student Conduct and the N.U.in Program Supplemental Guide to Participant Conduct, as well as the policies outlined in the Acknowledgement of Responsibility and Liability Waiver form. Failure to do so may result in the removal of the participant from The N.U.in Program and may also prompt a review of the participant’s spring admission status. Any costs incurred by N.U.in as a result of any violation of these policies will also be at the participant’s expense (i.e., damages to host institution facilities, etc.)

E. REMOVAL FROM THE N.U.in PROGRAM:

If a participant is asked to leave the N.U.in Program in connection with violation of any applicable policy:

• No refund will be granted.

• Northeastern spring admission status will be reviewed and may be rescinded.

F. INABILITY TO OBTAIN A STUDENT VISA:

If a participant is unable to obtain a student visa:

• The participant may be refunded any recoverable costs.

• Northeastern spring admission status will be reviewed.
G. VOLUNTARY WITHDRAWAL FROM THE N.U.in PROGRAM:

1. Circumstances

• Medical reasons as supported by a physician;
• Personal reasons such as homesickness, family concerns, language difficulties, adjustment issues, climate, geography, or political climate;
• The participant will be refunded any recoverable costs.
• NOTE: If a student attempts to voluntarily withdraw from the Program while disciplinary charges are pending, the voluntary withdrawal will not be approved until all disciplinary charges are resolved.

2. Voluntary Withdrawal Process:

  • Click “Decline Admission” under the self-service or enrollment tab.
  • Participants must fill out the pop-up window and press “go” for their withdrawal to be officially registered with the University.
  • If you have forgotten your password, you may click on “forgot password” on the login screen. If you have forgotten both your username and password, please call 617.373.4357 to get assistance in recovering your username.

H. REFUND RELATED TO PROGRAM CANCELLATION/SUSPENSION POLICIES:

If the U.S. State Department, Center for Disease Control, or University, in consultation with emergency response/safety and security providers, issues a travel alert for a country in which there is a N.U.in Program, The N.U.in Program may suspend or cancel the Program in that country and:

• In the event of program cancellation or suspension, all participants are required to return immediately to their home country or otherwise relocate as directed by the University.
• If the Program is suspended or cancelled prior to the Program start date, the University will work with participants to transfer to another N.U.in Program destination.
• Only recoverable Program fees, if any, will be refunded to those already participating, or preparing to participate, in that particular cancelled or suspended Program.
TRANSFER CREDIT & ENROLLMENT POLICIES

Northeastern’s Transfer Credit Policy

The N.U.in staff has worked closely with the Northeastern University Colleges and our partners abroad to ensure that students are enrolled in courses abroad that fulfill Northeastern major, core, and elective requirements. Upon returning to campus, all courses successfully completed with a grade equivalent of a “C” or higher while in The N.U.in Program will appear on students’ Northeastern academic records as transfer credit, but will not be calculated into their Grade Point Average. Students receive one original transcript each, which will have their grades from our partner institutions abroad should they require the transcripts to apply to graduate school or other post-undergraduate opportunities. Any additional copies will need to be requested directly from our partner institutions by students.

Enrollment in The N.U.in Program

Without exception, all students must successfully complete their current academic program and submit all final transcripts. Students must also submit proof of graduation, which is typically found on their final high school transcripts. Failure to submit final high school transcripts may impact financial aid awards, and failure to complete one’s current academic program in good standing could result in a decision to rescind the offer of admission to The N.U.in Program and the university.

Matriculation to Northeastern

Participants must successfully complete their N.U.in Program courses during the fall semester. Failure to complete coursework and earn a grade of “C” or better could result in the need to take extra courses during the summer or subsequent semesters or a decision to postpone the student’s matriculation to Northeastern University.

Disciplinary issues that have occurred since admission, at Pre-departure Orientation, while participating in The N.U.in Program, at Northeastern’s New Student Orientation programs, during Move-In, or prior to the official start of the semester, must be fully disclosed. Northeastern reserves the right to rescind your offer of admission or engage in any appropriate disciplinary action related to these issues.
REVERSE CULTURE SHOCK

Not only may students experience culture shock while living in a foreign country, but they may also encounter "reverse culture shock." Reverse culture shock occurs when students return to their home country after having been away for an extended period of time. Symptoms of reverse culture shock resemble those of culture shock in many ways.

Reverse culture shock is usually described in four stages:

1. Disengagement
2. Initial euphoria
3. Irritability and hostility
4. Readjustment and adaptation

Stage 1 begins before you leave your host country. You begin thinking about re-entry and making your preparations for your return home. You also begin to realize that it’s time to say good-bye to your friends abroad and to the place you’ve come to call home. The hustle and bustle of finals, farewell parties, and packing can intensify your feelings of sadness and frustration. You already miss the friends you’ve made, and you are reluctant to leave. Or, you may make your last few days fly by so fast that you don’t have time to reflect on your emotions and experiences.

Stage 2 usually begins shortly before departure, and it is characterized by feelings of excitement and anticipation - even euphoria - about returning home. This is very similar to the initial feelings of fascination and excitement you may have when you first entered your host country. You may be very happy to see your family and friends again, and they are also happy to see you. The length of this stage varies, and often ends with the realization that most people are not as interested in your experiences abroad as you had hoped. They will politely listen to your stories for a while, but you may find that soon they are ready to move on to the next topic of conversation.

Stage 3 is characterized by feelings of frustration, anger, alienation, loneliness, disorientation, and helplessness and not understand exactly why. You might quickly become irritated or critical of others and of your home culture. Depression, feeling like a stranger at home, and the longing to go back abroad are also not uncommon reactions. You may also feel less independent than you were while abroad.

Stage 4 represents a gradual readjustment to life at home. Things will start to seem a little more normal again, and you will probably fall back into some old routines, but things won’t be exactly the same as how you left them. You have most likely developed new attitudes, beliefs, habits, as well as personal and professional goals, and you will see things differently now. The important thing is to try to incorporate the positive aspects of your international experience while abroad with the positive aspects of your life at home in your home country.
SPRING: NEW STUDENT ORIENTATION & BOSTON MOVE-IN

New Student Orientation

It is mandatory for all N.U. in students to take part in Spring Student Orientation, held in January and hosted by the Office of Student Orientation and Parent Programs. During this orientation program, students have the chance to meet N.U. in students from other locations and learn their way around campus and Boston. Students prepare for the start of their academic study at Northeastern by exploring their college and major, continuing to work with their academic advisors, learning more about experiential learning, and expanding their knowledge of what makes Northeastern unique. Parents and family members of students are invited to participate along with their student in the Orientation experience.

Students must register for Spring Orientation through their myNortheastern portals, beginning in late fall. An email will prompt students to register.

Boston Move-In

N.U. in students move into their Northeastern housing in early January. Housing preferences are collected in early fall via an online form, and placements are made throughout late November and December. While every effort is made to accommodate housing requests, students may not always receive a placement that aligns with their preferences.
WELCOME WEEK

New students are about to embark on a life-changing journey. At Northeastern, you will engage, inspire, and transform in the rich mixture of courses, learning experiences, and activities that make a Northeastern education excellent and distinctive.

Welcome Week is packed with fun and exciting events.
