On September 1, more than 60,000 students will move in to apartments across the city of Boston. Traffic can be frustrating and difficult during this time. Here is some information to make your move and experience as trouble-free as possible for Fenway and Mission Hill.

- Northeastern University has hired Boston Police officers for traffic control. Volunteers will be on hand in the Mission Hill and Fenway neighborhoods to assist and answer questions. When moving in or out, vehicles may only park on the street for ONE HOUR to load or unload. Do not utilize a parking space any longer than necessary as another individual may need it.
- Be mindful of neighbors. Not everyone may be moving right now. Some are year round residents, with young children or full time jobs. Do not walk on yards of neighbors. Keep noise levels low, and pick up trash. Introduce yourself to neighbors and share contact information in case there is any need to communicate during the course of the year.

SPECIAL MOVING INSTRUCTIONS FOR MISSION HILL NEIGHBORHOOD

- Boston Police Department (BPD) will be directing traffic throughout the day in order to keep vehicles moving and to prevent streets from being blocked. Certain streets will temporarily be made one-way for the day – see map for details and parking lot locations.
- An Information table will be located at the front entrance to Fitzgerald Park on St. Alphonsus Street. Northeastern University staff and volunteers will be available from 8 am – 6pm on September 1 to answer questions and provide parking information and maps.
- Tenants moving out should have all of their trash out by Thursday, August 30 after 5 PM, or Friday, August 31 (at the latest) for trash pickup. There will also be trash pickups on September 1 and 2 for those moving in.
- For September 1: Non-residential vehicles will be permitted to load/unload without being ticketed or towed for up to ONE HOUR, as space allows. Parking hangtags will be issued by Volunteers wearing red shirts. Strict enforcement of this policy, including ticketing and towing, will be in effect. Further, there will be a zero-tolerance policy for double-parking throughout the neighborhood and violators will be ticketed/towed.
• After you unload (or load), all vehicles must be moved to an overflow parking lot.

• Please look for volunteers on the streets, or go to the Information table for a parking hangtag and a map designating the location of overflow lots in Mission Hill.

SPECIAL MOVING INSTRUCTIONS FOR FENWAY NEIGHBORHOOD

• The Boston Police Department (BPD) will be directing traffic throughout the day in order to keep vehicles moving and to prevent streets from being blocked. No parking will be permitted on St. Stephen Street without clearance from a police officer.

• An information table will be located at the front entrance of the Asian American Center at 109 Hemenway St. Northeastern University staff and volunteers will be available there during the day on September 1 to answer questions, and provide parking information and map.

• Boston Police and University volunteers will be present in the Fenway neighborhood throughout the day to assist with parking and questions.

• Tenants moving out should put out their trash as of Thursday, August 30 at 5 PM up until Friday, August 31 for trash pickup. There will also be trash pickups on September 1 and 2 for those moving in.

• For September 1: Non-residential vehicles will be permitted to load/unload without being ticketed or towed for up to ONE HOUR, as space allows. Parking hangtags are required, and will be issued by Volunteers in red shirts. Strict enforcement of this policy, including ticketing and towing, will be in effect. Further, there will be a zero-tolerance policy for double-parking throughout the neighborhood and violators will be ticketed/towed.

• If on-street parking is not available, or individuals need parking beyond one hour, NU students will be directed to North Lot. This area will be available for parking for one hour for individuals to load/unload their vehicles. Northeastern students may check out bins at the North Lot to assist with moving belongings.

• Additional parking beyond one hour is available in the Columbus Avenue surface lot until 9 PM on September 1. Vehicles remaining beyond this time will be towed.
