

GOVERNANCE AND LEGAL

Effective Date: August 1,
2014

Date Revised:

Supersedes: N/A

Related Policies: Code of Ethics; Policy on the Retention and Disposition of University Records;
Appropriate Use Policy;
HIPPA Policy; My NEU
Privacy Advisory

Responsible
Office/Department: Human Resources Management,
Information Technology
Services, Office of the University Registrar

Keywords: records; private;
confidential

Policy on Confidentiality of University Records and Information

I. Purpose and Scope

Northeastern University is committed to maintaining the integrity and security of confidential records and information created, received, maintained and/or stored by the university in the course of carrying out its educational and research missions. This policy addresses the obligations to secure confidential information from unauthorized or unlawful disclosure. It is intended to reflect federal and state law governing privacy and confidentiality of records, as well as university policies and procedures addressing specific categories of records and information.

This policy applies to all members of the university community, including students, faculty, staff, alumni, and volunteers in connection with university activities, as well as contractors, vendors, consultants and affiliates when performing services for the university. It encompasses all proprietary and non-public information acquired during the course of employment or service to the university, whether paid or unpaid, and regardless whether the information has been documented or inserted into a paper or electronic record. Student records and information are also governed by the Policy on Confidentiality and Disclosure of Student Records.

II. Definitions

For purposes of this policy,

University Records means any documents, data, or other recorded information created or received by Northeastern employees in the course of university business. These records can exist in any form. Records include paper and electronic documents (including e-mail), microforms, audio and video recordings, databases, and emails. Some examples of records include, but are not limited to, contracts, minutes, correspondence, memoranda, financial records, published materials, photographs, sound recordings, video recordings, drawings and maps, and computer data.

Confidential Records includes without limitation any personally-identifiable student and parent records, financial records (including social security and credit card numbers), and health records; contracts; research data; alumni and donor records; personnel records other than an individual's own personnel record; university financial data; computer passwords, university proprietary information and data; and any other information for which access, use, or disclosure is not authorized by: 1) federal, state, or local law; or 2) university policy.

III. Policy

All members of the university community are required to maintain the confidentiality of business and nonpublic university records and data entrusted to them, except when disclosure is authorized by an appropriate officer of the university or required by law. University data and information may only be used for university purposes. In accordance with federal and state law and university policy, confidential records should never be disclosed without appropriate authorization, and should be maintained and secured according to the following principles:

- A. Documents and files (both electronic and hard copy) containing confidential information are to be accessed, used, and disclosed only with explicit authorization and only on a need-to-know basis for the purpose of a job function, contract, volunteer or paid service to the university.
- B. Confidential information regarding any individual or entity acquired during the course of employment at, or providing services to, the university must never be divulged to anyone outside of the university without authorization or to anyone within the university except on a need to know basis.
- C. Records must be maintained and disposed of according the university's Policy on Record Retention and Disposition, records retention schedule, and accompanying procedures.
- D. Records may only be received, maintained, accessed or transmitted on university resources in accordance with the requirements and safeguards of the Appropriate Use and other applicable policies, regardless of form, medium or device

E. Upon conclusion of employment or service, or upon request of a supervisor, all originals and copies of confidential records, whether electronic or hardcopy, must be returned to the university and all further access to and use of such information relinquished.

F. If in doubt about whether a record is confidential, the user should treat as confidential any university record which is not already within the public domain, until directed otherwise.

G. The university takes no responsibility for the unauthorized collection, storage or transmittal of third party information regarding any individual or entity by students, faculty, staff, volunteers or vendors as defined, that if owned by Northeastern would be subject to this policy.

IV. Additional Information

Violations of this policy will be treated seriously. Employees' failure to comply with this policy may lead to discipline, up to and including termination. Student workers employed by the university who violate this policy may be terminated from their jobs and may also face discipline under the Student Code of Conduct. Others covered by this policy may lose the opportunity to contract with, volunteer for, or otherwise provide service to the university. Violations might also subject the violator to criminal or civil prosecution under federal or state laws.

V. Contact Information

Information Technology Services (617) 373-4357

Compliance Department (617) 373-5893

Human Resource Management (617) 373-2230

HIPPA Privacy Officer (617) 373-4588

Registrar's Office (617) 373-2300