

Dear Seattle Learners,

As we prepare to welcome you back to campus, we wanted to share with you new resources and updates available to you as learners at the Seattle campus.

Watch a Walk-through of Campus!

Our new Community Health Ambassadors arrived on campus last week to see the campus and show us all the updates made to our spaces. Check out this video to see what to expect when you arrive back on campus.

Introducing: Acuity Reservation System

Current enrolled Northeastern students who would like to study on campus are required to reserve a spot in advance using the reservation portal. Reservations are for the full day and you may come anytime during operating hours. Please note you will be required to visit the check in station each time you return to campus. When making a reservation, you will select a floor and will take any open seat on that floor upon arrival. We ask that you limit your activity to the floor you have selected. Please keep the following in mind:

- If you wish to study on campus, in addition to attending class, you will need to make a reservation.
- If you are only coming to campus for class, and not to study, you do not need to make a separate reservation.
- We kindly ask that all students coming to campus for a class arrive on campus 10-15 minutes before class to complete the check-in process.

Student Hub and Dynamic Scheduling

The Student Hub is a desktop and mobile-friendly platform that intelligently connects to each student based on communities and interests. It serves as students' home base for key class information, applications, resources, and community engagement. The new dynamic scheduling tool in the Student Hub will allow students to indicate their preference to attend class in person or remotely on a week-to-week basis. For each week of class, students will choose their preferences the week prior, no later than Wednesday. An algorithm will run to dynamically and fairly assign students to available seats in classes. After indicating their preferences, students will receive their finalized seat assignments for the following week. A video demo and more information about the Student Hub is available at about.me.northeastern.edu.

To ensure the best experience on the Hub, please use the recommended browsers, Microsoft Edge or Google Chrome. Safari is not currently a fully supported browser for the Student Hub.

Returning to Campus

Check out this video by Assistant Director of Student Affairs, Aaron Jorgensen, to understand what all students need to do before returning to campus. To reiterate our last communication, please follow these required steps if you choose to return to campus:

- Complete the University Expectations for Return to Campus Attestation
- Review the “The Seattle Campus Safe Return Guide”
- Download SafeZone from either the iTunes App Store, the Google Play App Store, the Windows Store . You need to check into Safezone each day upon arrival to campus.
- Before arriving on campus each day, complete the Daily Wellness Check. The tool will indicate whether you are cleared to come to campus, whether you should stay home, and provide next steps if you report symptoms of COVID-19.
- Display your Husky ID & both access cards on a lanyard above your waistline.
- Check the dynamic scheduling tool in the Student Hub to see which class sessions you are scheduled to attend in-person and which class sessions you are scheduled to attend remotely.
- If you’re scheduled to be in the classroom you will want to arrive to campus a few minutes before class to complete the check-in process.
- To come on campus to study, you must make a reservation in advance through our reservation system. Reservations can be made up to one week in advance throughout term. Reservations are for the entire day.
