SUPPORT HOW TO HELP

If somebody told you he had diabetes, how would you react? If you’re like most people, you’d express sympathy and concern, offer your support and reassurance, and feel confident that your friend’s condition would improve with treatment. Now, if that same friend told you he had a mental illness, what would you do?

Too many people respond negatively when confronted with a friend’s mental illness, and this only fuels the stigma surrounding the diagnosis. The reality is, mental illness is no different from physical illness.

You can help just by being there and offering your reassurance, companionship, emotional strength, and acceptance. You can make a difference just by understanding and helping your friend through the course of his or her mental illness and beyond.
